Abstract of the Proceedings of the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal assembled for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations under the provisions of the Act of Parliament 24 and 25 Vic., cap. 67.

THE Council met in the Council Chamber on Saturday, the 13th July 1889.

Present:

The HON'BLE SIR STEUART COLVIN BAYLEY, K.C.S.I., C.I.E., Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, presiding.

The HON'BLE SIR CHARLES PAUL, K.C.I.E, Advocate-General.

The HON'BLE T. T. ALLEN.

The HON'BLE SIR HENRY HARRISON, KT.

The HON'BLE DR. MAHENDRA LAL SIRCAR, C.I.E.

The HON'BLE C. H. MOORE.

The HON'BLE SHAHZADA MAHOMMED FURROKH SHAH.

The HON'BLE DR. RASH BEHARY GHOSE.

MUHAMMADAN BURIAL BOARD'S BILL.

The HON'BLE SIR HENRY HARRISON said—Sir, I rise to move that the clauses of the Bill to provide for the appointment of a Muhammadan Burial Board in Calcutta and to make better provision for the interment of persons other than Christians as amended, be further considered for settlement in the form recommend by the Select Committee. I have only one trifling amendment to move, of which notice has been given, but I wish to say a word or two about the use of the word "generally" in the definition of "Muhammadan burial-ground" in section 2. Objection has been taken to that word that it is out of place, but I would ask the Council to let it stand, because it was chosen with particular care to meet the particular circumstances of the burial-grounds to which the Act is intended to apply. There are burial-grounds set apart for Sunnis only. There are no public Muhammadan burial-grounds more used than that of Ekbalpore, called the Solaanna Kabrastan, so that, if the Bill is applied to only Muhammadans generally, these would not come within the definition. On the other hand, there are other burial-grounds, such as those belonging to the Shiahs along the Circular-road, which are not intended for all Shiahs, but for particular communities, and another cemetery for ship-captains and others which are not intended for public use; their entire control is vested in one member of the community, and only ten or twelve interments take place annually, and therefore these burial-grounds do not require to be brought under the Bill. To call these public burial-grounds would be to use too wide a word, and therefore the word "generally" has been used; if there is any burial-ground set apart for all the members of any sect it should be public. I think that, under the circumstances, the word "generally" in the definition should stand.

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble Sir Henry Harrison moved that in section 9 the words "whether by acquisition under the Land Acquisition Act, 1870, or otherwise," be omitted. He said—It has been pointed out that it appears to be doubtful whether this provision was legal, because lands can only be acquired under the Act from public revenues, and inasmuch as the Act does not clearly indicate what the character of the revenue would be, except fees for burials (although there would be other funds), it was not clear whether the Board's funds would be public revenues or not. Under these circumstances, as it is always open to the Government to acquire land when it thinks fit, there is no necessity for the retention of these words, and they had better be omitted.

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble Sir Henry Harrison said—I now apply to the President to suspend the rules, if there is no objection, in order that the Bill may be passed. The only amendment which has been made is the omission of words which, if left in the Act, will apparently be ultra vires and superfluous. The Council has not added anything. It appears therefore that substantially the proceedings of to-day do not come within the rule which enacts that a Bill cannot be passed on the day when any amendment of the Bill as passed by the Select Committee has been made. Formally, it may be said that an amendment has been made, but as by the last section of the rules the President has power to suspend them, and as it appears that the modification—if it is a modification—is purely formal, it seems to me that you will best consult the convenience of the Council by suspending the rule.

His Honour the President said—The amendment which has been passed to-day is not substantially an amendment of that character that it makes the smallest alteration in the Bill. The Bill would have remained exactly as it was whether those words remained in it or not. The words being ultra vires, they will not make any difference in the substance of the Bill. As the Bill, therefore, has not been substantially altered, I can see no objection to pass it to-day, and, on the contrary, it will be a great and unnecessary inconvenience to call the Council together again to do so purely a formal act as the registering of the decision to which the Council has come to-day. I therefore suspend the rules.

The Hon'ble Sir Henry Harrison then moved that the Bill be passed.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Council was adjourned sine die.

AMENDMENT OF THE FORM OF RENT RECEIPT UNDER THE BENGAL TENANCY ACT.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—LAND REVENUE.

Calcutta, the 20th July 1889.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

A Resolution of this Government, dated the 10th May, 1888, sanctioning an amendment of the form of rent receipt under the Bengal Tenancy Act by the omission of the words "particulars of holding," and directing the introduction of the amended form with effect from the beginning of the current agricultural year.

Letter from the Board of Revenue, No. 399A, dated the 8th May, 1889, suggesting a further amendment in the form of rent receipt.

Letter to the Board of Revenue, No. 2090—692L.R., dated the 23rd May, 1889, calling for further papers on the subject.

Letter from the Board of Revenue, No. 544A, dated the 4th July, 1889, complying with the above request.

Since the publication of the Resolution referred to in the preamble, the Commissioner of Dacca has brought to the notice of the Board of Revenue a complaint to the effect that, in the form of rent receipt prescribed under section 56 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, heading 4—"area of holding" and "rent of holding" is deficient so far as tenure-holders are concerned, inasmuch as it provides only for the payment of rent on account of a "holding," but makes no such provision on account of a "tenure." The Collectors of Backergunge and Mymensingh have suggested that the heading should be altered to "name and area (if ascertainable) of tenure or holding" and "rent of tenure or holding" as the case may be. This suggestion is supported by the Commissioner of the Division, and the Board having consulted other officers, and considered their replies, suggest the substitution of the fuller expressions "area of tenure or holding, if known," and "rent of tenure or holding", respectively, for those in the present form.

The Lieutenant-Governor approves the alteration recommended by the Board, and in exercise of the power conferred upon him by the proviso to clause 3, section 56 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, is pleased to sanction the annexed amended form for general use.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Board of Revenue for information and guidance, and for communication to Commissioners and District Officers.

Ordered also that this Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette for general information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

C. E. BUCKLAND,

Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

CALCUTTA, the 16th July 1889.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 19TH OF JULY 1889.

TOWARDS the end of the preceding week a break in the rains had become established in consequence of the monsoon current being deflected westwards by the low pressure area in the centre of the Bay, which had begun to affect the pressure and wind directions at the stations on the Orissa coast on the last day of the week. The weather of the present week has been affected throughout by the depression which has remained almost stationary, while slowly developing. The monsoon current has been very weak over the whole province, and the rainfall largely in defect, and notwithstanding the existence of the depression which has controlled the wind directions over a large area, winds of moderate force have been blowing at all stations within the area of cyclonic circulation, and elsewhere calms or light winds have prevailed. Humidity and cloud proportion have been low, while temperature has been everywhere in excess, especially in Behar and Chutia Nagpur. The fall of pressure which commenced on Friday, the 12th, continued without break, and, though seldom large, has resulted in a large defect. A slight excess remained on Saturday after the somewhat rapid fall during the previous twenty-four hours, but defect began to appear in North Bengal on that day. Saturday's fall was the largest of the week, but nowhere exceeded a tenth of an inch. It was largest in East Bengal and smallest in South Behar, the average fall for the whole province amounting to about ·08″. The lowest pressure was in Orissa, and the cyclonic circulation accompanying the depression was confined to the stations in the north-west angle of the Bay and Orissa. Temperature was high and cloud proportion small, while rainfall was light, only a few local showers being reported. On the following day the fall of pressure was generally small, rarely exceeding 0·02″ except in Orissa, and there the largest fall, which was at Gopalpur, amounted to 0·05″. The cyclonic circulation, however, had extended to the centre of the Province, but at the central stations very calm weather or light variable winds prevailed. Temperature was still two to three degress in excess on an average, but the excess, while increasing in South-West and East Bengal, had diminished in some parts of Behar. Rainfall was still practically absent, though a few heavier showers had fallen at some of the northern stations. On Monday, the 15th, pressure continued to fall slowly, and there was distinct evidence of the storm intensifying on the Orissa coast. The cyclonic circulation round the storm was very perfect, and extended over all but the extreme eastern and northern districts of the province. The excess temperature continued to increase, and no rain fell except in Orissa, and at a few stations in East and North Bengal. Some heavy falls occurred in the Julpigoree and Cooch Behar districts. On the 16th pressure had become largely in defect at all the Orissa stations, and almost the only case of rising pressure during the week occurred in East and North Bengal, Behar and Assam, but the changes were irregular, and in all cases small. The storm continued to intensify and was then moving slowly in a north-westerly direction. The wind circulation continued, but the force was still moderate everywhere. Rain was general in Orissa and temperature falling, but, with the exception of a few showers in East and North Bengal and Assam, rain was practically absent. Temperature was 4° to 5° in excess over the greater part of the province. The same conditions obtained on the following day—slight intensification of the depression, marked circulation, and light winds, but rain then became general in South-West Bengal, Orissa and Assam. On Thursday pressure rose at nearly all Orissa stations, and the depression appeared to be beginning to fill up, the conditions otherwise remaining unchanged, except that the rainfall area was increasing and Behar only was rainless. Wind force was also increasing at inland stations except in North Bengal. The depression continued filling up for some time, and on Thursday evening appeared to be crossing the coast to the north of Puri. During the night, however, the storm again began to intensify, and its centre moved to near False Point On Friday general rain fell in Orissa and South-West Bengal, and a few showers in all other districts except Behar.

The depression which has influenced the weather so strongly during the week has been of the same character as all the other storms which have had their origin in the Bay during the present monsoon season. The most pronounced feature has been the very weak winds in the front of the storm and at all the coast stations, so that, though stormy weather has been shown by the reports brought by ships to have existed in the centre of the Bay, none of it has been experienced at any of the reporting stations. This is all the more noticeable, as pressure at the Orissa stations has been very low, and was a quarter of an inch below the normal at False Point.

Pressure.—Daily changes have been recorded above, being almost a continuous fall from the first to the last day of the week. The only interruptions were the slight rise in East and North Bengal, North Behar and Assam on Tuesday, and the very slight rise in Orissa on Thursday. The most rapid fall was on Saturday, but on other days the fall ranged generally from 0·02″ to 0·05″. In consequence of the continued fall the mean for the week has been largely in defect, more especially in Orissa, where it averages 0 11″; in South-West and East Bengal the mean is over 0·05″, and in the other districts lies between 0 03″ and 0 05″.

Temperature—In consequence of the comparative absence of cloud during the greater part of the week, has been very high in all districts, and large excesses are everywhere recorded, the largest from Behar. The mean for the week at Dehree and Patna has been over 90°, th former being more than 6° in excess. At several other stations in Behar the excess has bee over 4°, and generally at other station ranges from 2° to 3°. The means for the differen districts are from 2° to 4° above the normal except in Assam, where the difference is 1·8°. I North Bengal and North Behar the excess is just over 2°, in Orissa and South-West Benga about 2·5°, in East Bengal and Chutia Nagpur 3°, and in South Behar 4°.

Rainfall—Has been everywhere very scanty, Orissa being the only district in which there has been an average fall exceeding one inch. The largest falls have been in Julpigore and the Darjeeling hills. Buxa reports 12 inches, Kurseong 10·6 inches, Fallacotta 7 inches, Siligoree 5·25 inches and Darjeeling 4·45 inches. Elsewhere in North Bengal the falls are from one to two inches. In Orissa, Banpur reports 6·9 inches, and the other stations from one to two inches. In South-West Bengal the falls have been over one inch at a few stations, but generally lie between half an inch and an inch. In Moorshedabad less than half an inch fell at the majority of stations. In East Bengal, with the exception of Chittagong Hill Tracts, Furreedpore and Dacca, the falls have been less than one inch, and in many cases do not exceed a quarter of an inch. In Behar only a few stations report any rain, and that generally very small in amount. At Pakour, in the Sonthal Pergunnahs, the fall was 1·66 inches, but elsewhere it was usually two or three tenths of an inch. Rain was more general in Chutia Nagpur, but of the same small amount. The average fall in South-West, East and North Bengal, North Behar and Chutia Nagpur lies between 0·5″ and 1″. In South Behar it is only 0·14″. The defects are everywhere nearly two inches, and in East Bengal and Chutia Nagpur exceed two inches.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

* A special census of the Europeans in the Darjiling Municipality was recently taken, as the census of this section of the community, taken in February 1881, was not reliable owing to the Europeans being at a minimum in that month. The number of the natives remains as before, as it was not necessary to re-census them. The ratios have consequently been calculated on the revised population under all heads in the above table, except under the heads under which have been omitted, inasmuch as the census o

I.—The Commander of every vessel, including buggalows or other native craft, arriving from Bombay, shall, before entering the harbour, indicate by signal the port from which such vessel has come.

II.—Such Commander shall not, except as hereinafter provided, allow any communication, either with the pilot boat, except orally, or with the shore, or with any other vessel or boat in the harbour.

III.—Immediately on arrival, the Commander shall cause the letter R of the Commercial Signal Code to be hoisted, and shall keep the said flag flying during his stay in port, or until authorized by the Health Officer to haul it down. If communication with the shore is not desired, the vessel shall anchor at such place as may be pointed out by the Port authorities, having regard to the season of the year. If communication with the shore is desired, the Health Officer shall go alongside the vessel, and, after all necessary enquiries, shall direct the Commander to take the vessel to the quarantine anchorage duly appointed and notified in that behalf by the Resident, there to remain for a period of seven days from the date of arrival, or for the shorter period prescribed in Rule IV, and undergo disinfection, which should apply as well to crew, passengers, effects, and suspectible goods.

IV.—If the Health Officer of the Port has sufficient evidence that no cases of a suspicious nature have taken place on board during the voyage, and if the vessel is besides in good hygienic condition, the duration of the quarantine will be diminished according to the following scale:—

After eight days of voyage		...	...	six days of quarantine.
Do. nine	ditto	...	...	five	ditto.
Do. ten	ditto	...	...	four	ditto.
Do. eleven	ditto	...	...	three	ditto.
Do. twelve	ditto	...	...	two	ditto.
Do. thirteen	ditto	and upwards	...	twenty-four hours of quarantine.

V.—If during the period a vessel is at the quarantine anchorage aforesaid, any case or cases of cholera should occur on board, the said vessel shall remain in quarantine for a period of seven days from the date of the last case occurring, and be subject to all the prohibitions provided for in Rule III.

VI.—When any vessel has been placed in quarantine as aforesaid, the Health Officer may direct the removal of so many of the passengers and crew as may not be suffering from illness, and whose services may not be required on board the vessel, to such particular spots as may from time to time be selected by the Resident as places of quarantine, there to remain for a period of seven days. If a case of cholera occurs among such passengers and crew during any such period, they shall remain in a place of quarantine for a period of fifteen days from the date of the occurrence of the last case of such illness.

VII.—Any mails or cargo which may be brought by any vessel so arriving shall be landed under such precautions as the Health Officer may deem necessary to prevent the spread of the disease.

VIII.—It will be the duty of the Port Officer to facilitate the conveyance to all vessels in quarantine of such supplies of provisions, stores and other articles as may be required by those on board. Such supplies will be placed on the boats of the vessels in quarantine to be subsequently removed by members of their crews.

IX.—All vessels arriving at Aden and Perim, which may have communicated with vessels coming from Bombay, shall be subjected to the same quarantine as vessels arriving at Aden and Perim from that Port.

REVENUE.

The 24th July 1889.

No. 521R.—The following statement of the terms on which grants of land in Burma may be made to approved applicants who are willing to undertake the introduction of cultivators from certain parts of India, framed by the Chief Commissioner and approved by the Government of India, are published for general information :—

Grants of land may be given to approved applicants undertaking to introduce emigrants from Chutia Nagpur and Behar, including the whole of the Patna Division and the districts of Bhagulpur and Monghyr, on the following conditions, namely :—

I.—Applications for grants under these rules shall be made to the Financial Commissioner, and must be accompanied by satisfactory proof that the applicant has sufficient means to work the grant. The applicant must be approved by the Chief Commissioner before action is taken under the rules hereinafter recorded.

II.—The extent of the grant in each case will be determined by the Financial Commissioner; but without the previous consent of the Chief Commissioner no grant shall be made in excess of 10,000 acres.

III.—Ninety per cent. of the cultivators settled on the land shall be natives of Behar, as above defined, and Chutia Nagpur.

IV.—The application must specify the approximate area of the land, the district and township in which it is situated, and the boundaries so far as they are known.

V.—With the application, the applicant shall deposit 4 annas per acre to defray the cost of survey and demarcation. If the cost is less than 4 annas per acre, the excess will be returned to the applicant.

VI.—The land shall be revenue-free for the following terms according to its description :—

Description of land.	Duration of tenure free.	Rates of future assessment on cultivated area, and duration thereof.
	Years.	One anna per acre.	Two annas per acres.	Four annas per acres.	Six annas per acre.
1. Land covered with grass	3	3	3	9	15
2. Land covered with reeds, elephant-grass or bushes.	6	6	6	6	9
3. Land covered with small trees not exceeding 1 foot in diameter.	9	9	9	6	...
4. Land covered with large trees	12	12	9	...	...
5. Forest jungle on hills	18	15	...	...	...

In determining the class to which each grant may belong, the character of three-fourths of the area, or as near that proportion as is possible, is to be considered as that of the whole. After the expiry of 33 years, two-thirds of the rates assessed on similar land in the neighbourhood will be charged for 66 years. Thereafter the land will be liable to assessment under the law for the time being in force.

VII.—When the land comprised in the grant is assessed to revenue after the expiry of the term of 33 years, the grantee shall have the option of accepting the settlement of the land at the rates assessed, or of declining the settlement, in which case he shall be entitled to receive an allowance of 5 per cent. of the gross amount of revenue assessed on the land, and the Government may make such arrangements for the farming or leasing of the land for such period not exceeding the period of settlement as it may determine.

VIII.—Ten per cent. of the area shall be brought under cultivation during the first five years, and an additional 5 per cent. during each succeeding period of seven years up to the end of 33 years, when the grant shall become absolute.

IX.—Subject to compliance with the conditions above named, the grantee shall be at liberty to transfer the grant during the first 33 years with the consent of the Local Government; after the 33rd year the grantee shall have a perpetual and transferable title, subject only to the laws and regulations regarding tenant-right which may be passed by the Legislature.

X.—The right to all mines and mineral products, coal, petroleum, and quarries under or within any land granted or leased is reserved to Government with full liberty to the Government, its assigns, lessees, licensees, agents, workmen, and all other persons acting on its behalf or with its permission, to search for and work the same, subject to payment of compensation on account of disturbance or surface damage. Such compensation shall be determined by the Deputy Commissioner as nearly as may be in accordance with the law for acquisition of land for the time being in force.

XI.—No person shall fell, sell, or remove for sale any teak trees standing on the land granted or licensed to him, except under a special license granted under the Forest Rules. But any person to whom a grant or lease of land has been made may fell, sell, or remove for sale or for private use, without license, any other kinds of trees, whether reserved or not, standing on the land so granted or leased, provided that any timber so felled shall be liable to pay the usual rate at any check station it may pass, but not elsewhere. If such person converts any such trees into charcoal or cutch, he shall pay the usual fee on licenses for the manufacture.

XII.—All changes in the grantee's possession of land by transfer or succession, and all mortgages and partitions of his interest, shall be reported in writing to the Thugyi of the circle—in cases of succession, by the person succeeding; in other cases, by all parties to the transaction—within 60 days of such change, mortgage, or partition. The Thugyi shall register the facts reported in the form of register to be prescribed, and shall obtain the signature of the person or persons reporting, and shall give the person reporting a certificate that the report has been made.

XIII.—If any person, without good and sufficient cause, neglects to make the report prescribed under Rule XI within the time specified therein, the Deputy Commissioner may impose on him a penalty which shall not exceed Rs. 20, with a further daily penalty not exceeding Re. 1 for each day for continuing breach of the condition.

XIV.—Should any grantee neglect to fulfil the terms specified in these rules, or any portion of them, the grant shall be resumed, or such other penalties shall be inflicted on the grantee as may be agreed upon when the grant is made. EMIGRATION FROM THE PORT OF CALCUTTA DURING THE YEAR 1888.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—COLONIAL EMIGRATION.

Calcutta, the 29th July 1889.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Report on Emigration from the Port of Calcutta during the year 1888.

The Emigration Department was without the advantage of continuity of administration during the year under review, the post of Protector of Emigrants having been filled by Dr. J. G. Garrow Grant and Surgeon-Majors W. H. Gregg and D. W. D. Comins, each for a brief period of approximately four months. Dr. Grant, who had for many years held this appointment, and whose labours had frequently been favourably acknowledged by the Lieutenant-Governor, obtained furlough in the earlier part of the year, and has since retired from the service of Government. The report under consideration, which is submitted by the now permanent incumbent, Dr. Comins, is sufficiently full and fairly concise, and is accompanied by several maps intended to show in a general way, by means of comparative shades of colouring, the different localities in these and the North-Western Provinces and Oudh from which the supply of emigrants chiefly came, and also those in which the process of registration under the provisions of the Colonial Emigration Act took place. The practical value, however, of two of these diagrams is considerably detracted from by the presence of a serious error in the shading of the districts of Gya and Shahabad, of which the latter ought in each case to have been allotted the darker, instead of the lighter, shade.

Administrative changes.

2. The most important administrative measure taken during the year consisted in the absolute prohibition of further emigration to the French colonies of Martinique and Guadeloupe. The expediency of this step had, in the interests of Her Majesty's Indian subjects, been under consideration for some time past, and it was decided in November, 1888, that it should no longer be delayed. The only other change calling for notice was the increase from Rs. 2-8 to Rs. 3 of the consolidated fee leviable from the 31st March, 1888, for each emigrant, the amount received under the lower tariff having proved insufficient to cover the yearly expenditure incurred in connection with the supervision of colonial emigration.

Labour requisitions.

3. As was anticipated in last year's report, and in the Resolution recorded thereon, the demand for Indian labourers has considerably increased, owing in the main to requisitions having been again received from the Fiji, Surinam, and Guadeloupe Agencies. The figures show a very decided advance from 4,625 in 1887 to 7,180, the total number of coolies indented for, and a return to the state of affairs in 1886 and previous years, and it appears that a still further improvement may be expected to result from the brighter prospects, if maintained, of the sugar industry, in which a remarkable, but perhaps too violent, rise of 30 per cent. is reported to have brought prices up to a higher range than has been reached at any time during the last five years.

Recruitment.

4. Keeping pace with the advance in labour requisitions, the number of recruiting licenses granted rose from 345 to 511, and the fact that only four were forfeited is viewed with satisfaction. No fewer than 10,325 intending emigrants, male and female, were collected by these licensees during the year under report, as against 6,882 in 1887, and of these 4,420 were registered in Bengal and Behar, 5,101 in the North-Western Provinces, and 804 in Oudh. As has been the case in preceding years, the largest labour-importing colony was Demerara, for which 4,781 persons were registered, Trinidad following with 3,362 and Surinam with 1,321. The Protector has furnished Government with additional details relating to the homes of emigrants and the districts of their registration, but these disclose little that is novel or of importance. The competition for recruits appears to have been keenest in the metropolitan district of the 24-Pergunnahs, as usual, and in Shahabad, where the number of recruitments was almost double that of the former year—a circumstance attributed to the partial failure of the crops in this district. The Protector remarks that in the 24-Pergunnahs the Behari recruits seem to have elected to proceed to the colonies, while the Bengalis evinced a preference for the labour districts, and this is quite in accordance with the uniform experience of other years.

Depôts.

5. Of the total number, viz. 10,325, of emigrants registered, 9,274 only were despatched from the sub-depôts in the recruiting districts, and the explanation that the balance, amounting to no less than 1,051, remains totally unaccounted for by the Agencies "owing to their inability to ascertain the facts attending the non-despatch from their sub-agents and recruiters in the several districts" is far from satisfactory. This point is one on which further enquiry should be made and a report submitted. The casualties during the journey to the depôts compare favourably with those of other years, as also do the percentages of deaths in hospital and desertions; while, on the other hand, the number discharged on account of rejections, refusals to emigrate, and so forth, was slightly higher than in 1887. The hospital and sanitary arrangements generally appear to have maintained a high standard of excellence, and the fact that, although the admissions into hospital were more numerous, the mortality was less, reflects credit upon the medical officers concerned.

6. Of the 7,121 persons who actually embarked on the outward voyage, 6,379 proceeded to British and 742 to foreign colonies. Among the number were 823 returned emigrants, 362 of them destined for Demerara and 301 for Trinidad. Dr. Comins remarks that it is noticeable that almost all the coolie-importing colonies are represented in respect of these 823 re-emigrating colonists, and the indication afforded by the circumstance is reassuring. Savings to the extent of Rs. 5,22,054 were brought back by 3,908 returned emigrants, i.e. an average of nearly Rs. 134 per head, against Rs. 6,92,326 by 6,346, i.e. an average of Rs. 109 per head, in 1887; and this increase in the savings per head no doubt affords some explanation of the increasing popularity of emigration. The death-rate on the return voyage was 2·7 per cent., and this, although in excess of that of last year, Dr. Comins submits, may be considered remarkably low, due allowance being made for the number of invalids and aged persons who are included in the return shipments.

Outward voyages and disembarkations.

7. The aggregate number of deceased emigrants' estates administered during the year was 315, valued, so far as is known, at Rs. 27,731-8-3. Of these, only 152 were finally disposed of; but, having regard to the fact that in the case of 70 other estates all that remained to be done at the close of the year was the actual payment to discovered heirs of the sums standing at their credit, and that enquiries to trace the heirs to the remaining 93 estates were being pushed on with apparent energy, the Lieutenant-Governor is prepared to agree with the Protector in pronouncing the general results shown in this important branch to have been very satisfactory.

Estates of deceased emigrants.

8. The Lieutenant-Governor has much pleasure in acknowledging the efficient manner in which Drs. Grant, Gregg, and Comins severally conducted their duties as head of the department during the year.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

C. E. BUCKLAND,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

DONATION BY RANI RAJ KUMARI DASSI FOR THE PAYMENT OF FEES OF FIFTY HINDU STUDENTS IN THE SANSKRIT COLLEGIATE SCHOOL.

No. 516, dated Calcutta, the 26th July 1889.

From—C. E. Buckland, Esq., Officiating Secretary to the Government of Bengal, General, Revenue and Statistical Departments,

To—The Director of Public Instruction.

I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 3756, dated 16th July 1889, on the subject of the payment of certain fees at the Sanskrit Collegiate School, and to reply as follows.

2. In Sir A. Croft's letter No. 2827, dated 17th May 1889, it was stated that the fee paid by students at the Sanskrit Collegiate School is Rs. 3 a month, subject to the condition that 100 sons of bonâ fide pundits are allowed to read in the school at the rate of Re. 1 a month, so that of the 130 pupils at present under instruction only 30 pay the full rate. A recommendation made by the Principal of the Sanskrit College that, with a view to popularise the institution, and encourage Sanskrit learning, the reduced rate of fee of Re. 1 a month should be extended to 100 additional students was then submitted, on the understanding that this privilege should not be confined to the sons of bonâ fide pundits, but should be extended to all respectable Hindus who are desirous of learning Sanskrit to a high standard.

3. At the same time, Sir A. Croft laid before Government an offer made by Baboo Jadu Lal Mullick, on behalf of his relative Rani Raj Kumari Dassi, to establish an endowment fund for the payment of the fees of 50 Hindu students at the Sanskrit Collegiate School at the reduced rate of Re. 1 a month, the necessary arrangements to be effected by a trust, of which the Rani and the Baboo abovementioned are the managing trustees. The conditions of this offer are (1) that the recipients are to be respectable but not in well-to-do circumstances; (2) that these foundation scholars are to be called "Baboo Pran Kissen Mullick's scholars;" and (3) that they are to be selected by the managing trustees for the time being, subject to the approval of the Principal of the College.

4. The Lieutenant-Governor has, in compliance with Sir A Croft's recommendation, and with a view to the encouragement of Sanskrit learning, much pleasure in accepting the generous offer of the Rani Raj Kumari Dassi, and of Baboo Jadu Lal Mullick, and desires to thank them for their liberality. He will be prepared to give his favourable consideration to any similar benefaction for the encouragement of students in Sanskrit learning. I am to request that such measures as are necessary may be taken to provide for the regular payment of the sum of Rs. 50 a month by the trustees to the Principal of the Sanskrit College.

5. It appears to the Lieutenant-Governor that the acceptance of the offer referred to in the two preceding paragraphs covers much of the ground on which the proposition of the Principal for the extension of the reduced fee of Re. 1 to 100 additional students is based; and before sanctioning that proposal, His Honour would prefer to watch the effect on the numbers, and popularity of the Sanskrit Collegiate School of the arrangement now sanctioned. There will thus be henceforth provision for three classes of students at this school, viz:—

(1) 50 Baboo Pran Kissen Mullick's scholars, paying a fee of Re. 1 a month.

(2) 100 sons of bonâ fide pundits paying a fee of Re. 1 a month.

(3) Others unlimited in number, paying a fee of Rs. 3 a month.

CALCUTTA, the 30th July 1889.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 26TH OF JULY 1889.

At the end of the previous week the small storm which had been stationary in the neighbourhood of the Orissa coast for some days, and which had appeared to have passed inland, was showing signs of further slight intensification. The centre had changed its position and was to the north-east of Puri. It would appear that in the widely diffused area of low pressure, there existed more than one centre where the pressure was lower than at neighbouring places, and that for a short distance the indraft to these centres caused a slight cyclonic circulation of winds round each of them, while at a greater distance the winds appeared to be circulating round one centre only. Thus the change of winds at the stations of the Orissa coast, and the simultaneous rise of pressure on Thursday, the 18th, show that one of these centres passed inland, but was immediately followed by another of slightly greater intensity. It was owing to the approach of this centre to the Orissa coast at the end of the last week that the rise of pressure ceased, and the winds again became cyclonic. On Saturday morning the motion of the centre was fairly rapid in a northerly direction, and after passing between Balasore and Saugor Island it moved with much greater rapidity in a north-westerly direction. On the following day the centre was on the borders of the North-West Provinces, and a strong inrush of winds was following it over the whole of Bengal. With the northward advance of the storm, pressure fell rapidly at the head of the Bay on Saturday, the first of the present week The wind directions on this day continued to show a very perfect cyclonic circulation round the centre near Saugor Island, and were beginning to increase rapidly there and along the Orissa coast. Humidity and cloud proportion were also increasing, and rainfall was becoming much more general, though light everywhere, except in Orissa. On the following day, Sunday, the 21st, a very rapid rise of pressure took place in South-West Bengal and Orissa. It rose more slowly in East Bengal, and fell slowly in Behar in consequence of the approach of the depression. The slight fall showed that a rapid filling up was taking place as the storm area advanced, and the defect which had been so large during the previous week had almost vanished everywhere except Behar, where it ranged from 0·05″ to 0·08″. Temperature was then beginning to fall, and very strong winds continued in the rear of the depression. Light general rain fell at all stations. On Monday, the 22nd, ordinary monsoon weather prevailed over the whole province. Rain was heavy at a few stations in Behar, but elsewhere was of the same light character as on the previous days. Pressure changes were small, and temperature very variable in the different districts, being below the normal in Chutia Nagpur, Behar and North Bengal, but was above it elsewhere, the excess in Orissa amounting to 5°. On the two following days a slight depression with a faint cyclonic circulation appeared over the southern parts of North Bengal and the east of Behar. It moved slowly westward, and on Wednesday its centre was near Bhagulpore. During these days pressure changes were very irregular in amount, but there was a general fall on Tuesday, followed by a general rise, the largest on both days being in North Bengal. Rainfall became much more heavy in all districts except Orissa, where very little rain fell during the latter half of the week. Temperature remained low over the greater part of the province, the defect ranging from 2° to 4°, but in Orissa and part of South-West Bengal an excess of from 2° to 4° still continued. Fairly strong winds continued to blow at the coast stations, but the force was light or moderate elsewhere. On Thursday the cyclonic circulation in the northern part of the province had altogether disappeared, and general monsoon weather prevailed, with a tendency to become lighter on Friday. Pressure rose rapidly on the former day, and was in excess in all districts; temperature was still low except in Orissa and Chutia Nagpur, and wind force remained unchanged, though the directions were generally southerly or south-easterly. Very heavy rain fell at some stations, especially in the north-east and centre of the province. Pressure changes on Friday were small and irregular, but there was still excess everywhere. Temperature was rising, and humidity and cloud proportion decreasing; though some heavy falls of rain occurred, it was becoming lighter. After a break of several days fairly heavy rain fell in Orissa on Friday.

Pressure—Changes have been somewhat irregular during the week, and at times have been large. After the passing of the storm a very rapid rise occurred in Orissa and South-West Bengal. Pressure was then very low, the lowest reported being 29 279 inches at Saugor Island and 29 287 inches at Balasore. The defect at these stations was about a quarter of an inch, and it exceeded 0·12″ at all the stations of South-West Bengal, Orissa and Chutia Nagpur. In other districts there was generally a defect of from 0·05″ to 0·08,″ but pressure was very nearly normal in Assam. The large rise during the twenty-four hours preceding 8 A.M. on Sunday made the pressure much more uniform over the province except in Behar, where the defect was still over a tenth of an inch at some stations. On Monday and Tuesday there was a general fall followed by a rise, rapid at some stations in North Bengal on Wednesday and Thursday. There was then about 0·05″ excess in all districts, and this was very little affected by the slight irregular changes on Friday. The mean variation for the week is in almost all cases a slight defect, there being excess pressure at one or two stations in Assam, North Bengal and Orissa. The average defect is largest in North Behar, amounting to 0·035 inch; in South-West Bengal and South Behar the defect is 0·025 inch. In the other districts there is a slight defect except in Assam and Orissa, where there is an excess of a few thousandths of an inch Temperature—Has been low over a large part of the province, but there has been considerable irregularity in the mean temperature as recorded at the different stations. Nearly all the stations in North Bengal and North Behar report defective temperatures; in South Behar, South-West Bengal and Assam nearly all are in excess, while in Orissa all are in excess. In East Bengal there is excess of from half a degree to two degrees at all stations except Mymensingh, where there is a defect of over 1° In the mean for the week the only district in defect is North Behar, where it is 1° In South-West Bengal and South Behar the mean is very nearly normal. The excess in the other districts amounts to 0 6° in Assam, about 1° in Chutia Nagpur and North Bengal, and 2°5° in Orissa.

Rainfall—Has been heavy in all districts except Orissa, where it has been slightly in defect. In East Bengal, North Bengal and North Behar considerably more than double the normal amount has fallen The actual average falls for the districts of North Behar and East Bengal are a little over seven inches, and in North Bengal six and a half inches. These expressed as percentages of the normal give East Bengal 214, North Bengal 241, North Behar 304. In South-West Bengal and South Behar, with actual falls of about four inches, there is excess one and a half inches in the former and two and a half in the latter. Chutia Nagpur is slightly in excess, while Orissa is a little over a tenth of an inch in defect. In Orissa rainfall varies from about half an inch at Jellasore to 4 inches at Pooree, and Kendrapara reports over 11 inches. In South-West Bengal at a few stations over 6 inches fell, but at nearly all stations from 3 to 5 inches. The largest falls were in the Moorshedabad district, several being from 7 to 8 inches In East Bengal the heaviest falls were in Mymensingh, ranging from 8 to 15 inches, and in Noakhally from 10 to 12 inches; elsewhere they ranged from 2 to 6 inches In the hill districts of North Bengal some very heavy falls occurred, Kurseong reporting nearly 24 inches and Darjeeling 23 inches In Cooch Behar the range was from 10 inches to 15 inches, in Julpigoree from 8 inches to 12 inches, and in the other parts of the district from 3 to 10 inches, generally about 5 inches. In North Behar falls were heaviest in Mozufferpore, Chumparun and Purneah, where several stations recorded over 10 inches and nearly everywhere the fall exceeded 6 inches. In Shahabad the fall was generally below 2 inches, but in other parts of South Behar the range was from 2 to 7 inches In Chutia Nagpur one or two stations reported over 5 inches, but usually the fall was between 2 and 3 inches.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Friday, the 26th of July 1889:—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

* A special census of the Europeans in the Darjiling Municipality was recently taken, as the census of this section of the community, taken in February 1881, was not reliable owing to the Europeans being at a minimum in that month. The number of the natives remains as before, as it was not necessary to re-census them. The ratios have consequently been calculated on the revised population under all heads in the above table, except "Ages," the ratios under which have been omitted, inasmuch as the census of the Europeans above alluded to cannot be employed as a basis of calculation owing to the results of the census under this head not having been recorded under the authorized form of age classification.

previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council: they have effect from the 20th instant in the Ports of Aden and Perim and the Somali Coast as a temporary measure:—

I.—The Commander of every vessel, including buggalows or other native craft, arriving from the Coast of Assaye, between Heit and Hoheia, shall, before entering the harbour, indicate by signal the port from which such vessel has come.

II.—Such Commander shall not, except as hereinafter provided, allow any communication, either with the pilot boat, except orally, or with the shore, or with any other vessel or boat in the harbour.

III.—Immediately on arrival, the Commander shall cause the letter R of the Commercial Signal Code to be hoisted, and shall keep the said flag flying during his stay in port, or until authorized by the Health Officer to haul it down. If communication with the shore is not desired, the vessel shall anchor at such place as may be pointed out by the Port authorities, having regard to the season of the year. If communication with the shore is desired, the Health Officer shall go alongside the vessel, and, after all necessary enquiries, shall direct the Commander to take the vessel to the quarantine anchorage duly appointed and notified in that behalf by the Resident, there to remain for a period of seven days from the date of arrival, or for the shorter period prescribed in Rule IV, and undergo disinfection, which should apply as well to crew, passengers, effects, and suspectible goods.

VI.—When any vessel has been placed in quarantine as aforesaid, the Health Officer may direct the removal of so many of the passengers and crew as may not be suffering from illness, and whose services may not be required on board the vessel, to such particular spots as may from time to time be selected by the Resident as places of quarantine, there to remain for a period of seven days. If a case of cholera occurs among such passengers and crew during any such period, they shall remain in a place of quarantine for a period of fifteen days from the date of the occurrence of the last case of such illness.

VII.—Any mails or cargo which may be brought by any vessel so arriving shall be landed under such precautions as the Health Officer may deem necessary to prevent the spread of the disease.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT—BENGAL.

DISTRICT ROAD FUND.

NOTIFICATION No. 307

The 6th August 1889.

THE subjoined annual accounts and report of the Road Cess Committee of the District of the Sonthal Pergunnahs for the year 1888-89, together with the remarks thereon of the Commissioner of the Bhagulpore Division, are published for general information.

W. CONNAN,

Offg. Under-Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal, P. W. Dept.

No. 23P.W., dated Dumkah, the 6th May 1889.

From—R. H. RENNY, Esq., Offg. Deputy Commissioner of the Sonthal Pergunnahs,
To—The Inspector of Local Works, Bhagulpore Division.

REFERRING to your No. 55 I., dated 23rd April last, I have the honour to submit a brief report on the working of District Road works in Sonthalia for the year ending 31st March last.

2. The Road Cess Act is not in force in the Sonthal Pergunnahs district. We have no District Board. Its powers, however, in regard to road works are exercised by me.

3. Original Works.—(a) The timber bridge over Luckhicoory stream, second mile, road No. 2 (Dumkah and Rampore Hât), was dismantled, and this was replaced by a masonry bridge of 4 spans of 13 feet 6 inches each, with arches of rubble masonry. The bridge was begun and finished during the year.

(b) The bungalow at Katikund for the Forest Officer was begun during the year: it may be said to be nearly completed. Only a few minor works remain to be done to it during the current year.

(c) We did not do any original work under this head.

4. Embanked roads, metalled roads, roads bridged.—Nothing was done during the year under this head.

5. Wooden and masonry bridges.—The only work done under this head was the masonry bridge over Luckhicoory nala referred to above. The total cubic feet of masonry done thereto was 5,025.

6. We could not do other original works during the year under report for want of funds. The maintenance of over 700 miles of roads takes up almost the whole of our limited grant (Rs. 34,000) given us by Government, which constitutes our entire annual income.

7. Buildings.—Dumkah Road Office bungalow and inspection bungalows on roads Nos. 1, 2, 3, 7, 11 and 21 underwent repairs during the year. The bungalows are in fair order. Besides, the staging bungalow at Rajmehal was repaired, and is in very fair order.

8. Surveys.—The only surveys made during the year were for preparing relief projects in Jamtara sub-division. The lengths thereof amount to near five miles.

9. The roads borne in the printed statement underwent repairs during the year. The repairs mileage is given below:—

First class roads	(repaired)	... ...	182 miles.
Second ditto	(ditto)	... ...	242 do.
Third ditto	(ditto)	... ...	38 do.
Fourth ditto	(ditto)	... ...	276 do.

10. Village roads.—We have the following village Roads in the district, viz., Benagoriah village roads, Deoghur village roads, and village chord, Dumkah and Rampore Hât road. The total mileage thereof is about 18 miles. They underwent repairs during the year, and are in fair order.

11. Trees.—(a) We could plant only about 300 new trees during the year. Want of funds precluded us doing further under this head.

(b) The old trees maintained during the year amounted to about 28,000: they are mostly mangoe. Many of them have borne fruits this season.

(c) Our roadside trees are generally doing well. Many of them have attained good heights, and will, I believe, not require further looking after.

R. H. RENNY,
Offg. Deputy Commissioner, Sonthal Pergunnahs.

No. 55P.W., dated Bhagulpore, the 15th June 1889.

From—C. C. STEVENS, ESQ., Offg. Commissioner of the Bhagulpore Division and Sonthal Pergunnahs,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Public Works Dept.

I HAVE the honour to submit the annual accounts and reports of the District Road Fund of the Sonthal Pergunnahs district for the year ending the 31st March 1889.

2. The Sonthal Pergunnahs is a non-cess district, and the Government annually sanctions a grant-in-aid of Rs. 84,000 for road works.

3. There are 182 miles of metalled, and 556 miles of unmetalled, roads in the district: the former were maintained at a cost of Rs. 8,803 and the latter at Rs. 12,575, making a total of Rs. 21,378 for repairs of roads of all classes. The expenditure on original work was Rs. 2,310, that is, there has been an outlay of 6·2 per cent of the total expenditure of the year on original works and 57·3 per cent on repairs.

4. The only important original works executed during the year were the construction of a masonry bridge over the Luckheecurree stream in the second mile of Dumka-Rampore Hât road No. 2, and the bungalow at Katicund for the Forest Officer. The Deputy Commissioner reports that owing to want of funds no other original works in the district could be undertaken. The maintenance of over 700 miles of road takes up almost the limited grant. The Baisa nala bridge, on the 61st mile of the Bhagulpore-Suri road No. 1, is to be improved in the current year. No other original works will be undertaken.

5. Almost all the roads were repaired and kept in fair order.

6. There are only four village roads in this district, with a total length of about 18 miles. They were kept in fair order.

7. The buildings in this district, which consist of inspection and staging bungalows, were all repaired, and are reported to be in good condition.

8. Nearly five miles of road in the Jamtara sub-division were surveyed for the purpose of preparing projects for famine relief.

9. About 300 trees were planted out during the year, and of 28,000 trees planted and maintained in previous years, many have borne fruit this season and do not require any further looking after.

10. The expenditure on public works, exclusive of establishment, was Rs. 23,688, and the cost of establishment was Rs. 6,927, or 29·2 per cent. of the outlay on works. The percentage of work establishment is high, but this is due to the expenditure on works being small and to the large area over which the works are scattered. The total cost of establishment is within the limits laid down in the Road Cess Act. The income for the year, exclusive of the balance of the previous year, is Rs. 41,414, one-fourth of which is Rs. 10,353, against an outlay of Rs. 6,927.

LIBERALITY OF MAHARAJAH RAVENESWAR PROSAD SINGH BAHADUR OF GIDHOUR AND RAJAH RAM NARAIN SINGH OF KHYRA.

No. M $\frac{1-9}{2}$ 6, dated Calcutta, the 5th August 1889.

From—H J. S. COTTON, Esq , Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal, Municipal Dept.,
To—The Commissioner of Bhagulpore.

I AM directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No 770J, dated the 5th July 1889, in which you report that Maharajah Ravaneswar Prosad Singh Bahadur of Gidhour and Rajah Ram Narain Singh of Khyra have each offered the sum of Rs. 2,000 for the sanitary improvement of the town of Deoghur in the Sonthal Pergunnahs. These donations were originally promised for the Shivagunga tank and the scheme for the drainage of the town of Deoghur, but as the Maharajah of Durbhunga has undertaken the cost of these works, it is proposed, with the consent of the donors, that the contribution of the Maharajah of Gidhour should be devoted to the improvement of the Jalsar tank, and that of the Rajah of Khyra to the construction of a ghât on the Shivagunga tank.

2. In reply, I am directed to say that the Lieutenant-Governor accepts the offers made by the Maharajah of Gidhour and the Rajah of Khyra, and to request that His Honour's thanks may be communicated to them for their liberality. This letter will be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

	Culna ...	0·76
	Cutwa ...	Nil.
	Raneegunge ...	1·48
2	Bankoora „ 3, '89	1·04	Weather—hot and cloudy. Transplanting of rice still going on briskly all over the district. Standing crops doing well, but more rain wanted. Common rice selling at 17½ seers per rupee at Bankoora and 17½ seers at Bissenpore.

	Rampur Hât ...	1·22	The recent break in the rains put things backward in Rampur Hât; but even then all the rice has now been successfully transplanted. The Sudder sub-division, which has had better rain, has the prospect of a very fine crop. A short break in the rains in August is advantageous, as it admits of weeding. 4	Midnapur „ 3, '89	0·76	There is a break in the rains with only a few local showers. Rain is now said to be required in all parts of the district, as transplantation is delayed for want of it, and on high lands seedlings are suffering. 129 persons relieved gratuitously in the Contai sub-division. † At Madhubani the price of com non rice 10 seers per rupee.

‡ In the Sitamarhi sub-division the price of common rice varies from 8½ seers per rupee at Majorgunge to 10½ seers at Sitamarhi

§ The fall in the price of salt at Cuttack seems to be due to the fact that since the rivers and canals have become open, the merchants are increasing their imports in accordance with the convenience given by the abolition of pawanas.

Q At Fenny Hát retail price of salt 8 seers per rupee.

* Means for 6 days.

Explanations.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period for the last ten years. The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed at percentage, saturated air being presented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The number of rainy days are the numerical means or average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the sub-divisional station for the period in question during the past 31 years. The number of stations in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least hundredth of an inch fell.

or the week ending Friday, the 2nd of August 1889.

CALCUTTA, the 6th August 1889.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 2ND OF AUGUST 1889.

THE conditions during the week have generally been of light monsoon character, notwithstanding the occurrence of two very shallow low-pressure areas which had little influence even on the wind directions beyond their immediate neighbourhood They caused very slight interruptions to the flow of the monsoon current, though the partial break in the rains which has extended throughout the week has probably been due to their influence. The first appeared near Saugor Island on Saturday the first day of the week; pressure was then relatively low there but the lowest pressure in the province was in the west of Behar. Pressure differed very little from the normal in all districts, and was generally in excess. Temperature was generally high, but in North Bengal and Behar differed very little from the normal, there being slight defects and excesses in these districts which neutralised one another on the average. Wind directions showed signs of cyclonic circulation in Orissa, but elsewhere were normal, the velocity in all cases being very light. Cloud was increasing rather rapidly, and though a few heavy falls of rain were reported, it was not general, except in Orissa. On the following day the small whirl had moved over Balasore, and the cyclonic nature of the wind directions at a few stations in South-West Bengal and Orissa was more apparent. Pressure rose at all stations, most rapidly in the northern districts and Assam, and differences over the province had become considerable. Temperature fell rather rapidly, and was in defect in Orissa, Assam, North Bengal and part of Behar. Winds still remained light, but were increasing in strength on the Orissa coast. Rain was general, but in most cases light. On Monday, the 29th, pressure was very high in all districts, except Chutia Nagpur and South Behar, and as the wind directions appeared slightly cyclonic in these districts, the small whirl had probably moved there during the previous twenty-four hours. During the following days of the week weather remained very uniform of a light monsoon character, winds were southerly or south-easterly, and rather strong at the head of the Bay, but became somewhat abnormal at some of the Orissa stations on the last two days of the week, showing a slightly cyclonic character. Pressure rose till Wednesday, after which there was a slow fall on Thursday, continuing with greater rapidity on Friday. Excess, however, still continued. Temperature was from one to two degrees in excess everywhere, and in Chutia Nagpur towards the end of the week, the excess amounted to 5°. Occasional heavy local falls occurred, but only light rain was general, and in Orissa and part of South-West Bengal very little rain fell anywhere. The slightly low pressure which accompanied the abnormal wind directions at the head of the Bay towards the end of the week was filling up, and perhaps the absence of rain, which was most decided in many districts on Friday, was due to it.

Pressure—Changes have been generally small. With the exception of the first and last two days, there was a fairly steady rise. On Saturday the largest fall was in Behar, but in other districts falls of one or two hundredths occurred. Pressure was then very slightly above the normal in all districts, but the rise which commenced on Sunday and lasted, with the exception of very slight falls on Tuesday, till Wednesday, caused a considerable excess over the whole province. The largest change was on Friday, when there was a fall of nearly a tenth of an inch in some parts of South-West and East Bengal The mean pressures for the week at the various stations have been very uniform, the excess ranging from 0 04 inch to 0 08 inch. The average excess for Orissa is about 0·05 inch, South-West Bengal 0·07 inch, East Bengal 0 08 inch, North Bengal 0·07 inch, Behar and Chutia Nagpur 0·04 inch, and Assam 0·07 inch.

Temperature.—The mean for the week has been in excess in all districts, except Assam and parts of North Bengal and Behar These defects range from half a degree to about two degrees. The excess generally exceeds 1°, but does not exceed 2°, except in Chutia Nagpur. The means for the districts are in excess in all except North Behar and Assam, the defects in these being 0·9° in the latter, and 0·4° in the former. In North Bengal the difference is very small, in South Behar 0 5°, South-West and East Bengal about 1·5°, and Chutia Nagpur 2·6° excess.

Rainfall—Has been largely in defect in Orissa, South-West Bengal, East Bengal, and Chutia Nagpur, slightly so in South Behar, while there has been excess in North Bengal and North Behar; largest in the latter. The defect in East Bengal amounts to nearly 3 inches, in South-West Bengal 2·5 inches, and in Chutia Nagpur and Orissa 1·5 inches. In South Behar the defect is less than one inch. The number of rainy days is very nearly normal, the defect being due to the light rain, which has generally fallen except in parts of the northern districts. The actual rainfall expressed as a percentage of the normal for each district is as follows:—Orissa 52, South-West Bengal 33, East Bengal 40, North Bengal 130, North Behar 146, South Behar 76, Chutia Nagpur 64. Falls in Orissa and South-West Bengal are generally under 2 inches, Bhuddruck reporting the largest of 4 inches. In East Bengal, Chittagong reports 8 5 inches, Noakhally, Fenny, and Netrokona about 5 inches, but other stations falls of one and a half inches. Heavy falls are reported by Julpigoree, Cooch Behar, and Darjeeling Hills. Kurseong received 17 5 inches, Cooch Behar 16 8, Mickligunge 17, and several places over 14 inches. In Bogra, Pubna, Rajshahye, and Maldah falls have been light, and only in a few cases exceed an inch The average for these divisions of North Bengal are Pubna ·8 inch, Bogra 1·4 inches, Rajshahye ·4 inch, and Maldah ·9 inch. In North Behar the falls range from two to six inches, and in South Behar nearly all are over two inches, while at some stations five to six inches fell. In Chutia Nagpur the range is from one to three inches.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Friday, the 2nd of August 1889 :—

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park Street Observatory). The barometer is about 3 feet higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore ·003 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 0·9 higher; and finally, the thermometer which furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during 20 years and upwards is found to read 0·6 higher than the Kew standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

* A special census of the Europeans in the Darjiling Municipality was recently taken, as the census of this section of the community, taken in February 1881, was not reliable owing to the Europeans being at a minimum in that month. The number of the natives remains as before, as it was not necessary to re-census them. The ratios have consequently been calculated on the revised population under all heads in the above table, except "Age," the ratios under which have been omitted, inasmuch as the census of the Europeans above alluded to cannot be employed as a basis of calculation owing to the results of the census under this head not having been recorded under the authorized form of age classification.

Increases.

Coal 712

For railway and flotilla consumption; following the decrease of 803 tons in April 1889.

Piece-goods 146

This is a steadily improving traffic, due to the increased demand in the districts.

Oilseeds 914

A very favourable market in Calcutta influenced this increase, which was contributed by Maslandpur, Sonapol, Jessore, Singhia, Nowapara, and Khoolna.

Sugar 700

There has been a great improvement in this traffic recently. All the manufacturing stations, viz., Maslandpur, Gobardanga, Jadabpur, Nabharan, Jhikargacha, Jessore, and Singhia, show a healthy increase.

Decreases.

Rice 270

Due to partial failure of the crops in the districts.

Betel-nuts 370

This traffic has been for some time past diverted from the railway by the Bengal Central Flotilla.

Power of Port Commissioners to lend Corporation of Calcutta a sum not exceeding Rs. 2,00,000 towards defraying interest payable on a loan to be raised by the Corporation for constructing a street connecting Howrah Bridge with Sealdah Railway station.

2. Notwithstanding anything in the said Howrah Bridge Act contained, it shall be lawful for the Commissioners for making Improvements in the Port of Calcutta out of the sum now accumulated as a Reserve Fund under the provisions of the Howrah Bridge Act, 1871, to lend to the Corporation of Calcutta, incorporated under Bengal Act II of 1888, the sum of Rs. 2,00,000 without interest for such period, not exceeding three years, as the Local Government may sanction ; such sum to be devoted to the payment of interest on a loan to be raised by the said Corporation for the construction of a street connecting the Howrah Bridge with the Sealdah Railway Station.

4. The thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor are again due to Dr. King for his efficient management of the Garden, and to Dr. Prain, the Curator of the Herbarium, who officiated for him during his absence, on furlough, from April to November.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution and of the Report be submitted to the Government of India, in the Revenue and Agricultural Department, for information.

Ordered also that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Superintendent of the Botanic Garden for information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. J. S. COTTON,

Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

No. 11G, dated Seebpore, the 14th May 1889.

From—BRIGADE-SURGEON GEORGE KING, M.B., Superintendent, Royal Botanic Garden, Calcutta,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

I HAVE the honour herewith to submit the One Hundred and Second Annual Report of the Royal Botanic Garden.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE ROYAL BOTANIC GARDEN, CALCUTTA, FOR THE YEAR 1888-89.

THE chief improvement effected within the garden during the year was the extension and completion of the Palm-house. This house—an octagon with a central dome—was originally designed in 1882. But as the carrying out of the entire plan at that time would have provided more space than was actually necessary only the central part was then built. The collection of plants cultivated in the garden having increased enormously during the past few years, the house has now been extended to the full size originally contemplated. The octagonal form has been preserved, and the length of each of the eight sides is now 85 feet, while the diameter of the whole is 210 feet. In its complete form it forms a very large conservatory indeed, and when the plants now being put out in it have had time to establish themselves, the effect inside will, I think, be very fine. Externally no house with such a large area of thatched roof can possibly look very well. But trees are to be planted in its neighbourhood, so as to break the view of the great expanse of thatch as much as possible. Various minor improvements in the way of road-making and mending have been effected within the garden. But the chief improvement in the way of communications which I have to record is the beginning made by the Public Works Department towards the continuation of the riverside road from the Shalimar Point to one of the garden gates. The Port Commissioners some years ago carried the road as far as Shalimar; but there it ended in a cul de sac. Now it is being carried, close by the brink of the river, down to the garden. This road, when completed, will form a magnificent breezy drive, and should tend considerably to augment the number of visitors. The accessibility of the garden has been still further increased by the erection, at the main entrance from the river, of a floating landing stage and gangway. These will make it much easier for steam launches and boats to land their passengers. The boundary disputes recorded in last year's report have all been practically settled, but the boundary has not yet been marked off by anything better than stone pillars, and a wall or stout fence would be certainly a great improvement, could sufficient funds be spared.

2. Economic Plants.—Nothing very special in the department has engaged attention during the year. The usual demands for Mahogany, fruit trees, Rain tree, Rheea and other useful plants have been met as far as possible.

3. Herbarium.—The collection of dried plants has received considerable accessions during the year. From garden collectors sent to Jongri (in Sikkim) and Maymyo (in Upper Burmah) very fair collections were received; while I have to thank General H. Collett, C.B., for a large and most interesting collection from the Shan hills; Mr. S. Peal for a collection from the Naga Hills, and Mr. Talbot for a collection from the forests of Canara. To the authorities of the Royal Garden at Kew we are as usual indebted for many gifts. Chief among these during the past year, I have to mention the third set of Mr. C. B. Clarke's extensive collections in the Eastern Frontier countries, made during his last visit to India. Mr. Clarke was an indefatigable collector; and as each specimen is accompanied by a note written by his own hand, this contribution is of exceptional botanical interest and value. From Kew were also received some Griffithian, a few Wallichian specimens, some Burmese plants, and a large quantity of miscellaneous flowering and cryptogamic plants. From Mr. Wray, of the Perak Museum, there were received six boxes of specimens from that rich botanical country. Mr. Curtis, of the Forest Department of the Straits Settlements, contributed a set of the Dipterocarps of Penang; while to Mr. Duthie, of the Saharanpur Botanic Garden, we are indebted for some interesting specimens from the North-Western Himalaya. But the operations in the Herbarium were not confined to receiving, for during the year considerable numbers of named specimens were issued to the Herbaria at Kew, the British Museum, Cambridge, St. Petersburg, Paris, Berlin, Leiden, Florence, Saharanpur, Madras, Buitenzorg (Java), Singapore, Perak, Penang, and to the collections of M. de Candolle of Geneva and Mr. J. Sykes Gamble of the Madras Forest Department.

4. Library.—The library is indebted to Sir Joseph Hooker, late of Kew, for several volumes, and for many pamphlets presented from his private collection; and from his successor at Kew, Mr. W. T. Thiselton Dyer, F.R.S., I have to acknowledge many valuable books which were in duplicate in the library at Kew. During the year the second part of the Annals of the Garden was issued. This contains the completion of the Superintendent's monograph of the genus Ficus. A fresh part, treating of the Indo-Malayan species of Oaks and Chestnuts, is far advanced and will be published in a few months.

5. As the attached distribution lists will show, there was considerable activity in the nursery and seed departments, no fewer than 31,183 plants and 2,075 packets of seeds having been issued to municipalities, road committees, managers of station gardens, and private persons. These figures fall short of those of 1887-88, the returns of which were swelled by the issue of a quite unprecedented number of the plant producing the well-known Rheea fibre. In making these issues great care is taken to avoid anything like interference with private nursery enterprise.

6. For the first half of the year under review the Lloyd Botanic Garden at Darjeeling was under the charge of Mr. H. Bahr. In November Mr. Bahr resigned the service of Government, and Mr. W. A. Kennedy was put in charge. In addition to his duties as Curator of the garden, Mr. Kennedy has been very energetic in planting trees in suitable spots in various parts of the station. This is a work of some importance, for Darjeeling is at present one of the barest of the Himalayan stations, and, viewed from a distance, it offers a sorry contrast to its superb surroundings, there being little to be seen within municipal limits, except corrugated iron sheeting and scrub jungle.

7. Both at Calcutta and Darjeeling the budget allotments for the year were spent nearly in full. The joint revenue estimated from the two gardens was Rs. 1,700, the whole of which, I regret to say, was not realised, there being a deficit of Rs. 182.

8. The writer was absent on furlough from April to November, and during his absence the duties of Superintendent were most efficiently discharged by Dr. D. Prain, Curator of the Herbarium. Mr. McHardy filled the office of Curator during the whole year, and he has earned, both with Dr. Prain and myself, the character of an energetic and enthusiastic officer. Babu Gopal Chandra Datta, the head of the office establishment, and Babu Prossonno Coomar Sein have both conducted their duties most satisfactorily.

RESOLUTION ON MR. C. E. BUCKLAND'S REPORT ON THE RESULTS OF HIS ENQUIRY INTO THE SYSTEMS OF EXCISE IN BOMBAY AND MADRAS.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT—EXCISE.

Calcutta, the 10th August 1889.

RESOLUTION.

READ again—

Mr. C. E. Buckland's report on the results of his enquiry into the systems of excise in Bombay and Madras.

Letter to the Government of India, Department of Finance and Commerce, No. 562T—F, dated the 5th November 1888, recommending the appointment of an Excise Commissioner in Bengal experimentally for a period of three years.

Resolution by the Government of India, Department of Finance and Commerce, No. 1880, dated the 15th April 1889, enclosing a Despatch from the Secretary of State, No. 31, dated the 14th March 1889, according sanction to the appointment of an Excise Commissioner in Bengal as proposed.

Read—

A report from the Board of Revenue, dated 5th July 1889, with its enclosure, from the Excise Commissioner, submitting the Board's opinion on Mr. Buckland's suggestions.

THE Lieutenant-Governor has already recorded his high appreciation of the value of Mr. Buckland's report. Copies have been submitted to the Government of India and the Secretary of State, and it has been widely circulated among officers interested in excise administration. It has been referred to in terms of commendation in the recent debates on Indian excise in Parliament.

2. Effect has already been given to the important recommendation, which underlies the whole of the report, for the appointment of an Excise Commissioner; and Mr. Buckland's other suggestions, which are recapitulated in the Board's letter, must necessarily, in a very large measure, await the development of the changes in policy which will be inaugurated by that officer. Mr. Westmacott forcibly represents that it will be necessary to allow him time to organise his new department and acquire precise information before entering upon fresh experiments. It is true, as the Board observe, that nothing is so likely to lead to failure as the attempt to work new systems with untried and inexperienced officers. The present year is also an unfavourable one for trying experiments owing to distress in many districts. The Lieutenant-Governor, therefore, concurs in the opinion, which is expressed both by the Excise Commissioner and the Board as well as the majority of officers consulted, that, while it appears desirable to try the experiment of new systems in these provinces, the attempt should only be made very gradually and after the fullest consideration. But apart from the question of entirely new systems there are reforms in the existing system which require immediate consideration. Mr. Westmacott's principal object at present is to raise the duty paid on outstill liquor in the form of license fees to the rate per gallon London-proof paid on distillery liquor in each district. This is the first step, but it is not one that can be accepted as sufficient. It leaves out of sight the important question of the retention or abandonment of outstills. It is the proper procedure to adopt only where outsills have to be retained. But it must be distinctly understood by the Excise Commissioner and by all officers concerned with the administration of excise in Bengal that the policy, which has received the approval of the Secretary of State and of Government, is that the outstill system should be replaced by a central distillery system, whenever circumstances render it expedient, and speaking generally the only circumstances which render the change inexpedient are sparse population, difficulties of supervision, proximity to alien territory, and a liquor which will bear neither transportation nor keeping. It is not intended that outstills should be suppressed in localities where experience has shown that distilleries cannot be advantageously introduced. In such localities it remains only to improve the administration and enforce restrictions, which are, it is hoped, being adopted with beneficial effect. But the result of the discussions which have taken place during the past year in regard to excise have satisfied the Lieutenant-Governor that it is impossible to rest content with the improvement of outstill administration only. The future tendency must be, as the Under-Secretary of State lately explained in the House of Commons, to gradually abolish the outstill system in one populous district after another until central distilleries are replaced in all localities suitable for their introduction. This policy has already been given effect to in the metropolitan districts of the 24-Pergunnahs and Howrah, together with the Serampore sub-division of the Hooghly district, by the inclusion of this tract within the sudder distillery area from the 1st of April last.

3. Mr. Buckland is strongly of opinion that new systems adopted from Bombay or Madras should be tried experimentally in selected districts of Bengal, and the Lieutenant-Governor trusts to Mr. Westmacott to turn his attention as soon as he conveniently can to the possibility of introducing these experiments, in regard to which Mr. Buckland's report will be found to give much useful assistance. The remarks of the Government of India, contained in the 13th paragraph of the despatch to the Secretary of State, No. 55, dated 19th February 1889, on this subject, call for the careful attention of the Excise Commissioner. It is pointed out that the only immediate alternative to the outstill system is the ordinary sudder distillery, which is simply a guarded enclosure containing a number of native stills. As the spirit made in the native method is far from being of a high class and in some districts, especially where mohwa is the material employed, will not bear transport and rapidly deteriorates, it becomes necessary to maintain a large number of distilleries in places where the sudder distillery system is in force. On the other hand, the introduction of European apparatus and methods in Madras and Bombay has resulted in the production of country spirit of a class which will endure transport over long distances and which does not deteriorate when kept. The despatch of the Government of India continues :—

"Moreover, the preventive establishments in those provinces are efficient, and it has consequently been found possible to concentrate the manufacture, with the result that the number of central distilleries is in striking contrast with the number in Northern India. Thus in Bengal the number of central distilleries in 1869 was 257, and in 1878, the year preceding the revival of the outstill system, 211; in the Punjab there are at present 65, while in Madras in 1887-88 two-thirds of the whole province was supplied from only 19. The difficulties attending the establishment of an effective preventive agency are perhaps not likely to be as successfully overcome in Bengal as they appear to have been in the two Southern Presidencies. But it should certainly be kept in view that the only satisfactory solution of the difficulties attending the central distillery system, if the decision to suppress outstills is taken, seems to lie in the adoption of either the Madras or Bombay method, and in the introduction of a radical change into the customary processes of local manufacture. The Bengal Excise Commission, however, advised in 1884 against the adoption of European methods of production in Bengal, and their views receive some confirmation from the fact that one of the two distilleries established on this footing has been closed, and that the trade is languishing. But looking to the satisfactory results achieved elsewhere, it seems to us that the question is deserving of further consideration, which it will doubtless receive at the hands of the Bengal Government in connection with the report submitted by Mr. Buckland on the Bombay and Madras systems."

Having regard to these observations, the Lieutenant-Governor thinks that Mr. Westmacott should study this aspect of the case with a view to submitting an early report to Government on this subject. It is understood to be the case that the whole of Ganjam is now supplied with liquor from the central distillery at Aska, and it is possible that Mr. Minchin may be willing to submit proposals for supplying the neighbouring province of Orissa in a similar manner. Whether any such proposals could be accepted by this Government is a matter which can only be considered after full enquiry, but the point is one on which the Excise Commissioner might place himself in communication with Mr. Minchin and the local officers. Possibly for the reasons quoted by the Board from Mr. Boxwell's report the districts of Durbhunga and Mozufferpore might prove a good field for a similar experiment in Behar, and the Excise Commissioner might with advantage confer with the large European and native firms in Calcutta, such as Messrs. Ahmuty & Co. and Messrs. Lyall, Marshall and Co., who are Agents of the Shajehanpore Rum Manufactory, with a view of ascertaining the terms and conditions under which it might be possible to introduce the systems of Southern India experimentally into these provinces. The Lieutenant-Governor is informed that the consumption of Shajehanpore rum in Calcutta has considerably increased since the date of the despatch of the Government of India already quoted. There are large Native firms in Calcutta who may be able to give much useful information on the question. Generally speaking, it appears to the Lieutenant-Governor that schemes in the direction indicated should be considered, as soon as Mr. Westmacott feels himself sufficiently relieved from the initial pressure of a new office to turn his attention to this.

4. The suggestion made in paragraph 68 of Mr. Buckland's report, that there should be one licensee for a number of shops who should distil at one central place and supply the other shops, has, it appears, been favourably reported on by several officers, and, in the Lieutenant-Governor's opinion, there is much to commend it. It may apparently be made to approximate to the system which prevails over the greater part of Madras, known as the free supply system. The Lieutenant-Governor understands that Mr. Westmacott has already been successful in some instances in amalgamating several shops under one license on terms favourable to Government, and the establishment of one central still within this local circle would appear to follow from this as an easy transition. It is well pointed out by the Collector of Bhagulpore that this system "would perhaps be a useful buffer to put in what is now called an inner circle between the outstills, which must, I think, continue to serve jungly tracts, and a sudder distillery area." The Lieutenant-Governor would be glad if the Excise Commissioner would give his special attention to this suggestion and bring it into force experimentally in those districts where the local officers are willing to try it.

5. Mr. Buckland's conclusion that excise establishments must be strengthened has been fully accepted by Government, and large increases have already been sanctioned during the current year. The permission of the Secretary of State has recently been obtained to the appointment of several additional Excise Deputy Collectors. Mr. Westmacott urges, and the Board concur in his opinion, that the old abkari darogahs and men of that class should be entirely removed from the department. This is a matter upon which a separate report should be submitted, and the Lieutenant-Governor can only say at present that, while he believes generally that the suggestion is a good one, he will only be able to give effect to it with due regard, on the one hand, to the just claims of individuals, and, on the other, to financial considerations.

6. Mr. Buckland's remark that the rate of still-head duty should be constantly raised is undoubtedly a correct proposition; but it is pointed out with equal truth that, so long as the outstill system prevails in the province, it will not be desirable to raise the rate until the outstill duty has been first raised to the level of the present distillery duty. The raising of the still-head duty should always be borne in mind as an ultimate aim, but not the most pressing reform at present.

7. The Lieutenant-Governor observes that both the Board and Mr. Westmacott entirely agree with Mr. Buckland's conclusion that the Bengal system of raising revenue from tari should be re-examined with special reference to the light which has been thrown on the subject by the report on the Bombay and Madras systems. Important suggestions have been made on this subject by Mr. Oldham, the Collector of Burdwan. The Lieutenant-Governor has no doubt that Mr. Westmacott will keep it under his consideration. It is not of the first importance in order of time.

8. Mr. Buckland has expressed an opinion that the number of shops may properly be increased to some extent. Upon this point the Lieutenant-Governor is not prepared to deny that if the central distillery system were universally established, or if liquor were, as a rule, distilled only at a few central sites, it might be advisable to increase the number of places of vend. The number of shops for the sale of country spirits in Madras during 1887-88 was 21,730 against 2,647 in Bombay and 4,280 in Bengal. In spite of these figures, Madras has been pointed to as the best administered excise province in India. But so long as the outstill system remains in force over the greater portion of these provinces, the proposal is not to be thought of. The Board sufficiently express the views of Government when they observe that, whatever may be argued as to the advisability of largely reducing the number of outstill shops, no increase in their number can be contemplated, as the result of such a step would be to counteract the efforts now being made to raise the price of outstill liquor.

9. The Lieutenant-Governor does not think that there is any necessity in Bengal at present for imposing maximum prices of liquor. The avowed object of Government is to discourage consumption by keeping up prices, stopping only short of rates, which would encourage illicit practices. Under other circumstances, however, when there is a monopoly over a large tract such as prevails in portions of Madras, and would prevail in these provinces if the Madras system in this respect were introduced, it is easy to see that maximum prices might be necessary to protect consumers, who would otherwise be driven to illicit distillation. In regard to minimum prices there is the widest difference of opinion. Mr. Buckland considers any such provision quite inoperative. The Board and Excise Commissioner, on the other hand, are of opinion that the fixing of minimum prices is necessary wherever there are outstills, and believe that it is efficacious in preventing outstill-holders from flooding the country with cheap liquor, as they could do if no minimum prices were fixed. The experiment of fixing minimum prices in Bengal is still under trial, and no further orders on the subject appear called for at present.

10. It seems unnecessary for the Lieutenant-Governor to follow the Board and Excise Commissioner in their comments on the remaining conclusions arrived at by Mr. Buckland in his report. The views expressed by the Board and Mr. Westmacott are substantially in accord with Mr. Buckland's conclusions and with the opinions which have already been placed on record by Government on other occasions. The principles enumerated are identical with those which have been recently re-affirmed by the Secretary of State in his despatch, No. 52, dated 16th May 1889, as the principles on which the excise administration in India should be based, as follows:—

(1) that any extension of the habit of drinking among Indian populations is to be discouraged;

(2) that the tax on spirits should be as high as may be possible without giving rise to illicit methods of making and selling liquor;

(3) that, subject to these considerations, a maximum revenue should be raised from a minimum consumption of intoxicating liquors.

Towards the enforcement of these principles the report of Mr. Buckland will always be accepted as a valuable contribution; by the information it conveys it will be established as a work of permanent reference; and by the modification and improvement of the existing excise systems which it suggests, it will materially aid in the more effectual control and discouragement of the liquor traffic in these provinces.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. J. S. COTTON,

Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE GENERAL ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE BURDWAN DIVISION FOR THE YEAR 1888-89.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—MISCELLANEOUS.

Calcutta, the 9th August 1889.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The General Administration Report of the Burdwan Division for the year 1888-89.

The Division was in the charge of Messrs. Westmacott and Alexander, each of whom held it for half the year. The report under review is submitted by the present incumbent, Mr. Clay, and is sufficient. As he assumed office after the close of the year, he has for the most part confined himself to the reproduction of the reports of the Collectors.

2. The Commissioner inspected the offices at head-quarters of districts and spent some time in each district, but no mention is made of inspections of subdivisions. The tracts affected by floods in Contai in Midnapore and the overflow of the Damudar were visited, and measures taken for the relief of the sufferers. The district officers generally fulfilled the requirements of the orders of Government in respect of camping, though in a few instances the tours fell short of the prescribed period of 90 days. The tours of the sub divisional officers, however, were not altogether satisfactory. The Culna, Contai, and Tumlook officers are specially mentioned as being at fault in this respect, and should be directed to comply with the standing orders on the subject more carefully in the future.

3. As in the previous year, the weather on the whole was not favourable to agricultural operations, the rainfall, though abundant, being unevenly distributed. The regular rains commenced at the end of June; in July and August the falls were unusually heavy, especially in the latter month, when disastrous floods occurred in Midnapore and parts of Hooghly, Bankoora, and Burdwan; in September the rain was insufficient; and in October there was scarcely any. The aman or winter crop, which was generally estimated as a 10-annas crop, suffered severely, particularly in the Midnapore district, where very large areas were under water for a considerable time; in other places the crop was starved for want of moisture. The loss was, however, to some extent compensated by a bumper crop of boro paddy, which was more widely grown than usual.

4. The general health of the people is stated to have been fairly good during the year. Outbreaks of cholera and small-pox, the mortality from which was heavier than in the previous year, occurred in Hooghly, Bankoora, Midnapore, and the Cutwa subdivision, but only in Bankoora small-pox broke out in an epidemic form towards the close of the year. Fever as usual prevailed more or less in the Division. The progress of vaccination is satisfactory. The Dankoni and Howrah drainage systems have done much good, and it is hoped that the Rajapore scheme, which is nearing completion, will also prove as beneficial. The question of improving the drainage of a part of Midnapore was locally examined by a special Commission last cold weather. The material condition of the people was generally prosperous throughout the year. There was distress, however, in parts of the Ghattal, Tumlook, and Contai subdivisions in the Midnapore district, which suffered, as already mentioned, severely from the floods, but it was necessary only to afford gratuitous relief in the tract last indicated to the destitute persons who in ordinary years would depend on charity. The wages of labour remained almost stationary, except in the flooded tracts of Midnapore, where those of unskilled labour fell considerably.

5. There was, as compared with the previous year, an increase in the number of Sonthali and other emigrants. In Midnapore two coolie recruiters were punished for illegal proceedings: the license of one was withdrawn for abetting false personation, and the other was criminally convicted for kidnapping minors to a free depôt. Much has already been done to suppress the abduction of women and children by unlicensed recruiters, and Mr. Tucker's deputation has had a good effect in this direction, complaints now being rare. The whole subject of recruitment in its various forms will receive careful consideration when the question of amending Act I of 1882 comes under discussion; but, meanwhile, the proceedings of both licensed and unlicensed recruiters should be carefully watched by the Magistracy and the Police.

6. The articles specially mentioned as having been manufactured in the Division are—silk, cotton cloth, jute cloth, indigo, shell-lac, brass, and bell-metal utensils, pottery, paper, cocoanut and castor oils. These products, with the exception of the last named, which is being largely superseded by kerosine oil, and indigo, the cultivation of which is on the decline, are generally in a rising condition and yield good profits. The manufacture of cloth in Serampore has so developed that the weavers manage to hold their own even against Manchester piece-goods. In Burdwan, on the other hand, as was noticed last year, the manufacture of country cotton cloth has considerably diminished in consequence of the competition of Manchester goods. It is with regard to such local industries as these, among others, that the officer about to be deputed to make an industrial survey of the province will prosecute enquiries with a view to their encouragement, if possible, by technical education. The outturn of coal from the Raneegunge mines has again greatly increased, being 1,101,079 tons against 944,449, the outturn of the previous year.

7. There was a marked increase in the exports of rice from the Burdwan and Bankoora districts; of wheat, oilseeds and coal from the Burdwan district; of hides from Bankoora, and of paddy from Beerbhoom; while the export of pulses and hides from Burdwan and Bankoora, and of rice from Beerbhoom, fell off considerably. The total export and import trade of Midnapore revived owing to the Hidgellee Canal being kept open for traffic throughout the year. The total value of canal-borne trade is shown as Rs. 1,84,14,205, against Rs. 1,61,16,416, that of the previous year, an increase which, having regard to the bad season, may be considered very satisfactory. In Midnapore very high profits were realized from trade in mats, and in Bankoora from shell-lac.

8. It is unsatisfactory to find, year after year, that the number of Muhammadans employed in the public offices is altogether inconsistent with the proportion of Muhammadans to the general district population. There is no backwardness on the part of district officers to employ them when candidates possessed of the necessary qualifications are available. The Collector of Burdwan applied to one of the Muhammadan Societies at Calcutta for candidates for employment, but without success. During the year two Muhammadans were appointed to the initial grades of the superior service in the Burdwan and two in the Bankoora district, and seven apprentices were admitted in the Beerbhoom offices. The total result is that out of 2,721 officers in superior service in the Division, only 297 are Muhammadans, and only 1,603 out of 7,363 in inferior service are of that religion.

9. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe indications that, as a result of the Government circular issued in December last, greater attention is being paid to the preparation of vital statistics. Special arrangements have been made in Burdwan and Hooghly for the purpose, and a Sub-Registrar has been employed by each of the municipalities of Midnapore, Tumlook and Ghattal for the correct registration of deaths. In rural areas it is hoped that, with the use of hathchittas and closer supervision, better results will be secured. In Midnapore there were 63 prosecutions under Act IV (B C.) of 1873 (which makes the registration of births and deaths compulsory) and 55 convictions. In Hooghly there were 133 prosecutions and 116 convictions.

10. There was an increase of 1,686 cognizable criminal cases and 713 non-cognizable cases as compared with 1887-88. This result is mainly attributable to greater activity in instituting nuisance cases, in municipal prosecutions, and assault cases. Serious crime is said to have generally diminished As many as 949 cases were declared false, and convictions were obtained in 21 cases only out of 109 in which prosecutions were instituted: the proportion of acquittals to persons tried by the sessions was 55·3. It is hardly possible to form an estimate of the working of the regular police from the statistical results of cases of these particular classes: the Commissioner reports their conduct to have been fairly good. Opinions continue to differ as to the value of the rural police, and it is hoped that a longer experience in the working of the Chowkidari Act, I of 1886, will lead to greater improvement than it has hitherto effected.

11. The revenue demand of the Division was Rs. 87,76,608 from 13,802 estates, against Rs. 86,80,944 from 13,717 estates, the figures of 1887-88. The percentage of total collections on the demand was 87·8, leaving a large balance of Rs. 10,63,608 outstanding at the close of the year. Of this sum, however, Rs. 4,31,521 were due from the Burdwan Raj Estate, and have since been paid, while the remainder is said to be due to the unfavourable character of the season. The default of the Burdwan Raj was owing to special and temporary causes beyond the control of the Manager. Survey operations are in progress in Midnapore and Burdwan, and a survey of the Burdwan Raj khas mehals was made during the year under a professional party. The survey of the D Schedule embankment lands of the Chetua circuit in Ghattal was concluded during the year. Land registration is still incomplete in the Midnapore district on account of the difficulty of ascertaining the owners of petty lakhiraj properties. The revenue sale law was worked with discretion during the year, only 177 having been sold out of a total of 1,703 estates which defaulted. The settlement of the Jellamoota estate, it is expected, will be concluded next October. The total area under lease for irrigation in the Midnapore district was 65,865 acres, against 65,492 in the previous year, and the total demand Rs. 1,98,700, of which Rs. 1,03,303 only were collected, the short collection being attributed to the disastrous floods. In consequence of the drought the sluices (intended principally to supply pure drinking-water) of the Eden Canal in Burdwan were opened, and an area of 37,000 bigahs is said to have been irrigated on payment of a small rate of 4 annas per bigah. Almost the whole demand of Rs. 3,500 on this account had been collected before the close of the year.

12. The excise revenue, exclusive of that derived from the Howrah and Bally Municipalities, which is dealt with by the Collector of Calcutta, amounted to Rs. 11,69,503, against Rs. 11,41,125 in the previous year. The sudder distillery system was in force in the town of Burdwan and the riparian municipalities of Hooghly and Howrah, and was reintroduced into the Howrah district and the Serampore subdivision from the beginning of the current year. The changes in progress in the excise system will be dealt with in considering the Board's Excise Report for 1888-89. The stamp revenue advanced from Rs. 15,72,640 to Rs. 16,35,219. The income-tax demands and collections rose from Rs. 1,72,536 and Rs. 1,70,699 to Rs. 1,75,630 and Rs. 1,73,828 respectively, and the total cost incurred was Rs. 14,922, the percentage being 8·6, against 11·7 in 1887-88. The want of expansion in the assessments and collections in Bankoora and Beerbhoom as compared with other districts is noticeable, and should receive the Commissioner's attention.

13. No new lines of railway were opened in the Division during the year, but survey operations were commenced and some of the routes demarcated for the proposed Western Bengal Railway running from Gya viâ Baidyanath, Noni Hât, Soori, Plassey to Ranaghat, with other shorter branches. Nothing has been done in the matter of the tramways at one time projected to run from Burdwan to Cutwa and from Memari railway station to join the Tarkessur Railway. The remarks made in the Resolution on the Commissioner's report for 1887-88 on the subject of village roads appear to have been attended to, as larger sums were allotted and spent thereon in almost all the districts. The neglect of this duty in Burdwan should not be allowed to recur.

14. There was a decrease from various causes in both schools and pupils from 11,377 and 289,567 to 10,898 and 284,387 respectively, chiefly in primary schools and pupils. In regard to primary education in Midnapore, the Commissioner makes the following observations:—

"In Midnapore Government having declined to increase the grant from Provincial revenues after 1887-88 by Rs. 5,500 on account of maintenance of ferries, the District Board resolved to charge the whole anticipated loss of income to the grant of primary education. In consequence of this payment of rewards to gurus for stability of schools has been stopped except in backward parts of the district; and (since close of the year) the staff of inspecting pundits has been reduced, and provision of grants for unaided schools has ceased to be made. This action of the Board was reported to Government in Mr. Westmacott's No. 346L.S.G., dated 4th September last. It does not appear why the grant for primary education alone should bear the reduction of expenditure which, in the Board's opinion, has been rendered necessary by the Government order above referred to. Ferries have nothing to do with education, and the orders of Government did not refer to the educational grant. Government simply declined to continue to bear a charge which it was thought should in future be borne by the ferry farmers. The result of this refusal is apparently some diminution of the Board's income for general purposes, except such as come within the scope of the District Road Fund. Any retrenchments necessary to restore financial equilibrium ought in fairness to have been rateably distributed over allotments made under the "Education," "Pounds," and "Ferries" sections of the budget, and not concentrated on one grant under one section only, and that one a grant which it is very undesirable to reduce."

In this view the Lieutenant-Governor concurs, and he trusts that the District Boards will do all in their power to fulfil their obligations with the resources at their command for the furtherance of primary education. Special attention was, it seems, paid to Muhammadan and Sonthali education, and the education of girls also received encouragement: but the Lieutenant-Governor regrets to learn that the District Board of Beerbhoom has since 1886-87 reduced the stipends of the Sonthali schools in the district, and that the schools have deteriorated in consequence; he will await the report called for from the Magistrate on the subject.

15. Unfavourable comments are made on the working of some of the District and Local Boards and Municipalities in respect of their neglect of business, wasteful expenditure, and want of harmony. It would be too much to expect that some of the Boards and Committees should not be open to such criticisms. On the other hand, the Lieutenant-Governor notices with satisfaction the considerable assistance rendered by the Midnapore Local Board on the occasion of the floods, and also by the Burdwan and Beerbhoom Municipal Commissioners. As it is the settled policy of Government that a full and fair trial should be given to local self-government institutions, the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that all officers will keep a watchful eye over their progress and development, and give advice and assistance whenever asked to help in difficulties. It is sufficient again to give a general indication of the wishes of Government that, while on the one hand, officers should not be mixed up with the internal management of such institutions, on the other hand they should keep themselves cognizant of their affairs, and endeavour by tact and guidance to prevent the necessity for recourse to official interference in the interests of good administration.

16. Seventeen estates were under the management of the Court of Wards at the beginning of the year. Of these, the Nischinta estate in Midnapore and Sultangacha in Hooghly were released from management, and Sujamutha, a part of the Burdwan Raj estate, was placed under the supervision of the Collector of Midnapore. It is proposed to release some of the petty estates in Midnapore from management. The Burdwan Raj estate is now the subject of a suit in the High Court, brought by the Dowager Maharani against the present Maharaja on a claim for the estate as reversionary heir. The late Collector, Mr. Oldham, who was thoroughly conversant with the affairs of the estate and the matter in litigation, has left on record a resumé of the points in dispute, which will be useful for reference. As the whole case is before the High Court, the Lieutenant-Governor refrains from making observations on the occurrences of the past year.

17. With three exceptions, the conduct of the zemindars in the Division has been generally satisfactory, but no names are singled out, as last year, by the Commissioner for special mention.

18. The Commissioner's remarks regarding the conduct, &c., of officers will be considered in the Appointment Department.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

C. E. BUCKLAND,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE GENERAL ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE PATNA DIVISION FOR THE YEAR 1888-89.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—MISCELLANEOUS.

Calcutta, the 13th August 1889.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Annual General Administration Report of the Patna Division for the year 1888-89.

An admirably condensed report has again been submitted by Mr. Boxwell, who officiated as Commissioner throughout the year. The observations with which it is replete are characteristically terse and original, and the criticisms, always valuable and interesting, show that Mr. Boxwell has acquired a thorough knowledge of the division, and is in touch and sympathy with the officers subordinate to him. Only on one subject, that of the relations between landlord and tenant, which would have been specially important in this year of scarcity, has the Lieutenant-Governor to notice a deficiency of information.

Annual tours.

2. The scarcity with which the districts of Chumparun, Mozufferpore, Durbhunga, Patna, and Gya were threatened invested the annual tours with special importance, and the circumstance appears to have been fully appreciated by the district officers, who are said to have very properly subordinated everything to enquiries connected with the condition and prospects of the crops. The forecasts made have, Mr. Boxwell remarks, been justified in each instance, and the result is a highly creditable one. As a rule, Sub-divisional Officers seem also to have made useful rounds of inspection, but the tendency noticed in the case of Bhabua to restrict touring year after year to the more accessible parts of a charge is one which the heads of districts generally should be prepared for and prompt to correct. Joint-Magistrates at head-quarters were much too busy to make tours, and, in view of the exceptional calls made on the time of Collectors in connection with preparations for famine, the Lieutenant-Governor accepts the explanation, but in the interests of Joint and Assistant Magistrates themselves, they should, whenever possible, be allowed the advantage of acquiring that intimate knowledge of the people and the country which is of the first importance and can be gained only by visits to the interior.

Weather crops and general condition of the people.

3. Mr. Boxwell's summary on this subject is of such general interest as to be worth quoting in extenso. He writes as follows:—

Patna.

"The rainfall was excessive in August, and great damage was caused by the flooding of the Punpun; but still greater injury was caused by early cessation of the rains in September. The rain in the end of November proved the salvation of the rabi. The January rain and the first fall in February were beneficial, but the second February fall damaged crops approaching maturity.

The result was a bhadoi crop 4 annas, rice 9 annas, and rabi 12 annas.

The condition of the people is better than could have been expected.

In Gya although the total rainfall was plentiful, it could hardly have been worse distributed: enormously excessive in August, and far below the requirements of September and October. Mr. Grierson describes vividly how the rush of water swept away banks and reservoirs and nearly the whole bhadoi crop, and left the land defenceless against the following drought. 'Fortunately rain came in November at the last moment and just in time' to let the rabi be shown. 'In January the rabi crop was promising all over the district, when it was again visited by a calamity in the form of very general hail.' The result is bhadoi 6 annas, aughani rice 8 to 9 annas, rabi 6 to 7 annas.

The Gya rivers come down a steep slope from the Hazaribagh hills, traverse Gya from south to north, enter Patna, curve to the east, unite under the name of the most western, the Punpun, and are imprisoned in the low flat land of Patna near the Ganges. The reports from the two districts tell very lucidly how the flood rushed over Gya and then lay on Patna till the crops were destroyed. Shahabad had much the same weather, but its canals and its better slope saved it, and it reaped bhadoi 9 annas, aghani 11 annas, rabi 10 annas."

The case of the northern districts is very different. They had no floods: all their troubles are due to drought. The rainfall was not only deficient generally, but also very partial, and was least exactly in that area where we have found the crops fail. Returns from indigo factories supplied to us after we began our enquiries show that the belt of failure of crops along the Nepal frontier was also a belt of strongly marked deficient rainfall. As the rice crop, which most of all wants water, is the chief, and in some parts almost the only, crop throughout this belt, the consequent failure and distress are natural.

Sarun had not such devastating floods as the southern districts, and nowhere suffered so severely from drought as the north of Tirhoot. Therefore, with Shahabad, it is fairly well off in a bad year. All over the division opium was a very poor crop, and the cultivators felt keenly the want of the rich advances."

The decrease in the consumption of country spirits, the rise in the number of defaulters for Government revenue and cesses, the difficulty experienced in the collection of water-rates and of rent in estates under direct management, and a number of similar indications all go to prove that everywhere the people were much worse off than usual, and unable to meet their liabilities or to invest a surplus income. Prices were high, but good communications and rapid information tended largely to equalise them, so that, while the whole division felt a failure that was very unevenly distributed, the worst tracts were never without sufficient stores. Mr. Boxwell considers that the experience of the year has shown that a valuable food-reserve exists in the mohua, which is generally distilled, but which, owing to high prices of food and the diminished margin available for the luxury of drink, was, during the past season, consumed as food. In connection with emigration, Mr. Boxwell notices as remarkable the report from Chumparun, that, although large tracts of good land in that district are lying waste and are available on easy terms, settlers are not forthcoming even from Tirhoot. The reason is that the lands which lie in the submontane tract in the north of Bettiah have an evil reputation for malarious fevers; and though they would with cultivation doubtless become healthy, the first settlers would suffer, and the Beharis are unwilling to undertake the risk. The disinclination on the part of Beharis to emigrate is a well known characteristic, but the Lieutenant-Governor observes that during the year under review the number of registered emigrants rose from 1,741 to 3,372, while it is certain that these known figures represent a mere fraction of the outflow of unregistered emigration, or rather of the annual emigration principally to north-east Bengal which is seldom of a permanent character. The public health is considered to have been better than the average, and the opinion is based rather on personal knowledge and the occurrence of outbreaks of disease than on mere statistics. There was a considerable increase from 67,783 to 99,400 in the number of vaccine operations, and, although even the larger figure represents only ·6 per cent. of the population, it is encouraging to find that apparently the opposition to vaccination is surely, if slowly, waning, and that the people are by degrees really learning to appreciate its advantages.

Trade, commerce, and manufactures.

4. The leading industries of the division remain unchanged, and while their total estimated value shows an increase of 66 per cent. over that of last year, the figures are said to represent better registration rather than increased manufacture. Similarly, a marked improvement in the collection of statistics is admitted largely to disturb any calculations based on the figures representing the trade and commerce of the year, and, as Mr. Boxwell appositely remarks, there has arisen the not uncommon case of the statistics of a remarkable year masking the features of that year by their own improvement. At the same time it is noticeable that the Patna railway returns reflect the bad harvests. Export of food-grain and pulses has fallen off 60 per cent. and import has more than trebled. From the districts which suffered least from bad harvests, the decrease in exports is 27 per cent. The total up-current trade is estimated at 95,96,909 maunds against 69,94,573 maunds last year, and the down-current at 1,20,78,885 maunds against 1,32,22,831 maunds.

Police and crime.

5. The total number of cognizable offences reported during the calendar year 1888 was 25,575, against 24,260 in 1887, and the increase is, as might be expected in consequence of the failure of the crops and the rise in price of the principal foodgrains, to be found chiefly under the head of "Offences against property." It is noticed that the number of cases not enquired into rose from 152 to 1,591; and although the Lieutenant-Governor is inclined to believe that the power to refuse enquiry has not hitherto been sufficiently used, so remarkable a rise calls for a word of warning. The Magistrate of Gya appears to have taken pains to satisfy himself that the power has not been abused, and it is hoped that other Magistrates are alive to the necessity for doing so also. As regards the conduct of the police, the reports from two districts are distinctly unfavourable, and the most that can be said of those from the remainder is that they are colourless or neutral.

Revenue.

6. The percentage of the total collections on account of both current and arrear demand was 93, but remissions aggregated Rs. 8,377 as against Rs. 4,609 in the preceding year, and, in the case of estates under direct management, only 89·2 per cent. of the rental was, owing chiefly to the poor harvest, realized. The system of payment by means of postal money-orders seems to have proved a success in this, as in other divisions. The total revenue from Excise showed a nominal falling off by Rs. 43,904, but there was an actual increase of Rs. 1,57,477. The decrease was in the advances taken during the last quarter for settlements of the current year, and point to a very large falling off in the revenue of 1889-90 as the result of high prices. The revenue from stamps rose by Rs. 54,134.

Education.

7. The opening of no fewer than 210 private schools with 4,544 pupils, and the increase in the number of female institutions, are alike satisfactory. Of schools generally there has been an advance in all classes, excepting middle English and upper primary, and the falling off in the latter is attributed to the fact that a large number were, on account of inefficiency, either reduced to a lower status or altogether abolished. The Lieutenant-Governor learns with pleasure that the management of education by the District and Local Boards of the division has on the whole been satisfactory.

District and Local Boards, Municipalities, and zemindars.

8. Mr. Boxwell states that the various District Boards of the division are as a rule given credit for harmonious work, but he observes that the praise of municipalities has become fainter than before. He dwells at some length upon a tendency on the part of the members of these bodies to confine their efforts in the direction of local self-government to deliberation, and to remain otherwise inactive, and he points, by way of contrast, to the personal supervision bestowed on road-making by the managers of indigo factories. He refers also to the report of a non-official Chairman in one of his municipalities, and writes:—"The reasons why the municipality have insufficient funds for such necessary purposes are ruthlessly exposed by the Chairman (a non-official). The elected Commissioners, he says, are expected to remit rates and reduce assessments in return for the votes by which they are returned. The result is a wholesale falling off in the tax—this year about 10 per cent. He says that the zemindars arrange with their tenants for the return of a certain candidate on condition that when elected the candidate reduces the rates assessed upon the zemindars and their people." If these things are true, it is much better that they should be publicly known than that they should be hushed up. It is only by bringing to bear on them the better and more enlightened portion of public opinion, of which the Chairman is an exponent, that they can be remedied. They are of course not peculiar to Behar, nor indeed to India; but they show the necessity of much patient supervision and assistance from Magistrates in support of Chairmen who are trying to do their duty, and to improve the condition of their municipalities.

Mr. Boxwell gives just praise to some excellent work done by the Indigo Planters' Association in bringing pressure to bear on a member of their body to make restitution of some land, and thus putting "a speedy and costless end to a fight that the clumsier machinery of the courts had been unable to settle." Of the conduct of zemindars as zemindars, the observations made by him on former occasions are repeated, but the manner in which the Maharajahs of Durbhunga, Hutwa, and Bettiah, and some large landlords, notably those of Siuhar and Sursund, have come forward with liberal assistance during the distress that has prevailed in the division, calls for the very cordial acknowledgment of the Lieutenant-Governor.

9. Mr. Boxwell's discriminating remarks on the character and work of his subordinate officers will, as usual, be communicated to the Appointment Department.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT ON THE CALCUTTA MEDICAL INSTITUTIONS FOR THE YEAR 1888.

Report on the Calcutta Medical Institutions for the year 1888.

The Report for the year 1887, and the Resolution recorded on it.

The death-rate in Calcutta and the Suburbs, though considerably below the average of the ten years ending with 1885, rose in Calcutta from 25·34 per mille in 1887 to 26·97, the increase falling mainly under the heads of Cholera and Other causes; while in the Suburbs it has increased from 42·17 to 42·49, the increase being under the head of Cholera. In Howrah the recorded death-rate has risen from 17·05 to 21·68, the increase being spread over all heads, while deaths from cholera alone increased twofold. The following table shows that notwithstanding there has been a considerable decrease in the number of patients treated in the hospitals. This may possible be partly due to the fact that fever appears to have been slightly less prevalent than in 1887 :—

* Reckoned on cases treated exclusive of cases treated in the ophthalmic ward of the Medical College Hospital.

The figures for Calcutta are vitiated by the fact that the Chandney Hospital (attached to the Mayo Hospital) returns have been discovered to be inaccurate. The Resident Medical officer has been changed, and it is to be hoped the Superintendent will succeed in future in more effectually checking the returns submitted.

2. The number of Hindu and Mahomedan women and children treated has fallen from 78,805 in 1887 to 69,115 in 1888, and it is suggested this may be due to the successful working of the out-door department of the Dufferin Hospital.

3. The death-rate among the treated rose from 114 to 124, owing to the increased number of deaths from cholera; excluding these, the death-rate fell from 105 to 104, the lowest since 1881 excepting 1886. The causes of the high death-rate in the Campbell and Howrah Hospitals were explained in last year's Resolution.

4. The number of small-pox cases continues to be very small. Only 11 cases were admitted in 1886, 18 in 1887, and 23 in 1888. All patients suffering from this disease are now treated in the Campbell Hospital, where special wards are constructed for them. There were as usual very few cases of enteric fever; only 10 were treated throughout the year.

5. In the Calcutta Institution there has been a satisfactory increase in the number of important surgical operations from 1,488 in 1887 to 1,719; while minor operations rose from 16,487 to 20,264. The death-rate in the former fell from 50·81 to 46 per mille. Dr. Hilson suggests that to enable the students attached to the Campbell Hospital to get more practical instruction in surgery, a small out-door department should be added. He is requested to submit a detailed scheme for the consideration of Government. In the Mayo Hospital and the dispensaries attached to it, many very important operations were performed. The Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals is still of opinion that the number of dislocations reported from some of the dispensaries as reduced are incorrectly stated, being largely in excess of the normal numbers reported from other institutions. 75 per cent. of those treated for cataract had good vision restored. Dr. Hilson justly remarks that it would have been more satisfactory if a larger portion of the important operations had been allotted to the Assistant Surgeons. In the Howrah Hospital only 59 major operations were performed during the year, owing in great measure to the indifferent health of the Superintendent, who should, however, have been able to get his subordinates to do more in this direction.

6. In the Edon Hospital 1,669 women and children were treated, against 1,607 in 1887, while the death-rate fell from 60·36 to 46·13. There were 513 confinements, of which 224 were Europeans, against 439 in 1887. There were only 9 cases of septicæmia, of which 6 were contracted before admission, with 3 deaths, against 18 cases and 15 deaths in 1887. Great credit appears to be due for this to Drs. Joubert and Walsh, who insisted on the most rigid precautions among nurses in the observance of antiseptic precautions after labour, and on the disinfection of all the linen of labour cases before sending it to the dhobee. A steam laundry is now in course of erection, which will shortly put an end to the present system of washing by dhobees.

7. The Ezra Hospital, which is chiefly intended for sick members of the Jewish persuasion, was opened for out-patients on the 12th March 1888, and for in-patients on the 9th April 1888: 1,134 out-door and 201 in-door patients were admitted during the year.

8. Sir Steuart Bayley is glad to find that the Medical Officers of the various institutions speak highly of the good services rendered by the nurses, for which the medical staff of the hospitals are largely indebted to Mrs. E. T. Atkinson, the Honorary Secretary of the Committee of Management of the Hospital Nurses' Institution, and to Sister Lucy, the Superintending Lady of the Clewer Sisterhood, whose death in April last, after a connexion with the Calcutta hospitals extending over 8 years, is greatly to be deplored. As Dr. Hilson truly observes—"Her self-denying devotion to duty and her kindness and attention to the sick will long be held in affectionate remembrance." The Lieutenant-Governor trusts the Committee of Management of the Hospital Nurses' Institution will be able to arrange that four fully trained nurses may be permanently maintained at the Eden Hospital, as Dr. Joubert states that number is absolutely necessary for the proper nursing of the sick and training of the pupils.

9. The total invested capital of the Hospitals remained almost unchanged, falling off only from Rs. 5,80,200 at the beginning to Rs. 5,79,700 at the close of the year. The total income, including opening balance, amounted to Rs. 4,42,647-14, of which Rs. 2,77,158-9-1 were contributed by Government. The total expenditure rose from Rs. 3,99,069 to Rs. 4,28,566-10-2, the increase being mainly due to increased expenditure on buildings and repairs, and to the payment of municipal taxes which were not formerly included in the account of Hospital expenditure. The falling off in the local income is due in great measure to the fact that two large donations swelled the total income in 1887, while the Railway contributions to the Howrah Hospital have been reduced by 50 per cent., and the receipts from the Port Commissioners fell off owing to the smaller number of sailors who made use of the hospitals.

10. The thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor are due to Dr. Hilson for his concise but full report.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

Offg. Chief Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON THE LUNATIC ASYLUMS IN BENGAL FOR THE YEAR 1888.

MEDICAL.

Dated Calcutta, the 12th August 1889.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Report on the Lunatic Asylums of Bengal for 1888.

Read again—

The Report for 1887, and the Resolution recorded upon it.

The present report is distinguished from its predecessors by its extreme brevity, being contained in less than seven foolscap pages. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to welcome this compression, but desires that the tables which were given in previous reports, comparing the admissions of lunatics during the year under review with those in previous years, may be inserted in future as appendices.

2. In connection with the limited accommodation and the annually increasing admissions into the asylums, the Inspector-General suggests that Magistrates and Civil Surgeons should have their attention drawn to the circular of the Government of India in the Home Department No. 179, dated the 25th March 1876, which directs that quiet and inoffensive lunatics should not be sent to asylums unless there is some very good reason for doing so. The circular referred to had indeed a very immediate and marked effect; but it does not appear, from an examination of the figures showing the number of admissions in each year, that there is any reason for supposing that its provisions are less closely observed now than when it was first issued. The circular was issued in 1876, and while the average number of admissions during the four years 1873—76 was 450, in the six years which followed it sank to 221, that is, to less than one-half of what it had previously been; while in the next six years, 1883 to 1888, the average number of admissions stood at 222. Sir Steuart Bayley considers that these figures show that full effect has been given to the provisions of the circular referred to above, and it does not appear to him necessary still further to restrict the number of lunatics sent to asylums.

3. The average population of the asylums during the last fifteen years is shown by the table which follows, from which it would appear that, for the present at any rate, the condition is one of equilibrium; and some diminution may be hoped for from the measures which have lately been taken in regard to the admission of criminal lunatics—

Years.	Average yearly admissions.	Average yearly deaths and discharges.	Average population (on 31st December).
1874-76	428	389	1,117
1877-79	236	317	952
1880-82	206	209	866
1883-85	232	197	917
1886-88	212	212	945

4. The increase in the number of criminal lunatics, which is referred to in paragraphs 7 and 8 of the Report, has, as stated above, already engaged the attention of Government, and it is hoped that the procedure introduced at the instance of the Special Committee, which was appointed to consider the question, will have the effect of reducing the number of admissions.

5. With reference to the Report for 1887, the Government of India pointed out the inconsistency between some of the entries in Statement VI and those in Statement VII, the former statement showing epileptic and toxic insanity as types confined to the Berhampore Asylum; while the latter statement indicated epilepsy and the abuse of drugs as physical causes of insanity among lunatics present in all the five asylums of the Presidency. The Inspector-General explains that such apparent inconsistencies are inevitable owing to the absence of any general agreement as to the definitions of the terms employed.

6. Another point which calls for special remark is the unusually large number of escapes. The Lieutenant-Governor will be glad to learn whether any special precautions have been taken to prevent this in future.

7. There are also one or two minor points which deserve attention. In paragraph 14 a proposal is made to discontinue the separate registration of in-door and out-door patients, and this proposal appears to the Lieutenant-Governor to be unobjectionable. In paragraph 28 a classification is given of the causes of insanity of the inmates of the Bhowanipore Asylum, but, apparently through oversight, intemperence, excessive drinking, drinking, and ardent spirits are classified as separate causes. In conclusion, the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe the healthy condition of the inmates of the asylums throughout the year, a condition which, though attributed principally to the general healthiness of the year, speaks well for the management of the various asylums.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

R. W. CARLYLE,

Offg. Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

FLOODS IN CHUMPARUN.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—FAMINE.

Mozufferpore, the 5th August 1889.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Report of the Collector of Chumparun, No. 576G, dated 4th August, 1889, to the Commissioner of Patna, on the subject of the injury caused to the crops by the recent floods.

At a Conference held at Mozufferpore on the 5th August, at which the Commissioner of Patna, the Collector of Chumparun, and the Officiating Revenue Secretary were present, the Lieutenant-Governor took into consideration the Collector's report on the subject of the injury done to the crops by the recent floods in parts of his district, and his proposals for meeting the distress likely to result from them. The report is only of a preliminary character, as sufficient time has not elapsed for enquiries to be made in detail. It contains, however, what Mr. Power anticipates will be his maximum requirements. His Honour accepts the conclusion that no relief works of any value are possible in the area to which the floods have extended, but agricultural operations in the fields will be possible as soon as the floods begin to subside. Meanwhile, the best methods of meeting the present difficulties will be, it appears to Sir Steuart Bayley, to sanction the sum (Rs. 3,500) asked for by the Collector for the distribution of gratuitous relief, and to authorize him to make advances under the Agriculturists' Loans Act, after the usual enquiries, to the extent of Rs. 30,000, in addition to the sums already sanctioned for this purpose. The Collector attaches much value to this form of relief as being appreciated by the people and economical in the end, as the greater portion of the sums advanced are eventually repaid. It is satisfactory that the Collector expects a good crop of the sathi rice to be ready in about three weeks.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Commissioner of the Patna Division for information and guidance.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

C. E. BUCKLAND,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

SUMMARY OF THE RAINFALL AND METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, DURING THE MONTH OF JULY 1889.

Meteorology of the month.—The heavy rainfall which was received during June continued for a few days at the beginning of the present month, and accompanied a small depression which began to form over Central Bengal on the 1st. It was then very indistinct, and the cyclonic circulation extended over South Behar and a portion of the centre of the province. It caused an influx of westerly winds, the interaction of which with the Bay current caused the heavy rainfall during the first few days of the month The depression was more distinct on the 2nd, a further fall of pressure having taken place, and its centre was near Bankoora. The wind directions belonged to the cyclonic circulation over the whole province, and heavy rain again fell. On the 3rd it had become a diffused area of low pressure extending over a wide stretch of country which included part of Chutia Nagpur. The depression was being moved west rather rapidly, and on the 4th had very little influence on the winds in Bengal. Directions had then become very nearly normal, but heavy rain continued to fall on the 4th, after which it began to get much lighter.

The weather during these first four days of July, being characterized by heavy rainfall, is connected more closely with that of the latter half of June rather than with what has followed in July. With the passing away of the depression a partial break of the rains set in, attended by high pressure and temperature, very light rain lasting till the 8th in all districts. An influx of westerly winds then commencing, rain became more heavy, especially in the northern districts, but it continued for two days only, when the westerly winds ceasing, the partial break was again established. This lasted for some days in all districts except over the Darjeeling hills and the neighbouring places, where heavy rain has fallen almost without interruption. From the 11th to the 15th very little rain fell except in the parts mentioned above, and was almost entirely absent from Behar and Chutia Nagpur till the 19th. This was owing to a small barometric depression which was forming at the head of the Bay and deflecting the moist winds from the province.

Small cyclonic storm of July 13th to 21st.—About the 9th signs of disturbance appeared on the east coast of the Bay, but as normal conditions obtained elsewhere till the 13th, no further development seems to have taken place The barometer began to fall on the west coast on the 10th, and indraught commenced there on the 13th simultaneously with a more rapid fall of pressure. Wind directions were then normal over almost the whole province, the directions at stations on the coast only becoming cyclonic. The continued fall of pressure intensified the depression, and its influence spread gradually over the province. On the 14th the circulation in connection with the depression extended to Burdwan; on the 15th to the centre of Bengal, the directions to the north being westerly where absolute calms did not prevail. Meanwhile, pressure had become very low on the coast of Orissa, being about 29·45 inches at False Point on the 15th. Calm weather or light winds prevailed everywhere, and temperature was 2° to 5° in excess. The depression remained stationary over the Bay, slightly intensifying till the 17th, when a small rise occurred, and the wind directions becoming more normal at the Orissa coast stations, the centre appeared to have passed inland. This apparent improvement did not continue more than a day, there being a further fall of pressure on the following day, while wind direction again became cyclonic. There was then a widely diffused low-pressure area extending from Jubbulpore in a south-east direction over the Bay. Within this area there appears to have been more than one centre of lowest pressure, each accompanied by an independent cyclonic circulation extending to a short distance from the centre, while the widely extended cyclonic winds appeared to be moving round one centre. One of these centres would appear to have crossed the coast between the 17th and 18th, but being followed shortly afterwards by another centre of greater intensity, and therefore with a more powerful influence on the wind directions, the normal winds at the Orissa stations lasted for a few hours only. A fall of pressure again set in on the west coast of the Bay on the 19th, and very low pressure was recorded at the stations in the north-west corner, being about 29·35 inches over an area extending from False Point to Saugor Island. The cyclonic circulation extended over the whole province, but winds were generally light. The second centre approached the coast slowly in a north-westerly direction, but, instead of crossing the Orissa coast, it began to move northwards on the 20th, the centre of lowest pressure being then between Saugor Island and Balasore. At 4 A.M. on the morning of the 20th, the very low pressures of 22·279 inches and 29·287 inches were recorded at Saugor Island and Balasore. Strong winds and rather stormy weather then began in the north of Bay, and heavy rain was falling in Orissa. After passing Saugor Island the depression moved to the north-west, and on the following day was over the west of Behar and part of the North-West Provinces.

An exceedingly rapid rise of pressure followed, wind directions were becoming normal in the eastern districts, while stormy weather was still prevailing at the head of the Bay. On the 19th rain was general, though light, in South-West Bengal and part of North Bengal, but elsewhere was almost entirely absent. On the 20th, however, with the rapid passing away of the area of low pressure, rain began to become general, the only districts where rain was not generally received on that day being Behar and Chutia Nagpur. From the 20th rain was general in all districts, and very heavy in North Bengal. The lightest was in Orissa and Chutia Nagpur, and the former was the only district in which rain was deficient for the week following that date. Normal monsoon conditions prevailed over the whole province, the very slight low-pressure areas which appeared over Chutia Nagpur and at the head of the Bay having little or no influence on the weather, beyond giving the wind directions a cyclonic appearance in their immediate neighbourhood. Pressure was very uniform over the whole province on the 26th, with a slight intensification to the north-east of Hazaribagh, and on that day the cyclonic circulation extended over the greater part of Bengal and Behar; but on the 27th conditions were again normal, except at the head of the Bay, where pressure was low and wind directions abnormal at a few stations, northerly at Saugor Island, and west at the Orissa stations. These conditions also had disappeared on the following day, the centre of lowest pressure having moved to the north-west. The winds were cyclonic in the western districts round a centre in Chutia Nagpur, the centre of lowest pressure not being clearly defined.. On the 29th and 30th the depression was being transferred more westerly, and on the latter, though nowhere very low, the area of lowest pressure extended over the North-West Provinces and part of Chutia Nagpur towards Gya and Hazaribagh. On the 31st normal monsoon weather prevailed. From the 20th to the 26th or 27th rainfall was general and in places very heavy, but probably owing to the slight influence of these low-pressure areas during the last few days of the month, there was a considerable decrease in the amounts, while they were also rather local. Thus, from the 27th to the end of the month, there was a partial break in the rains, deficient amounts falling in all districts, except North Bengal and North Behar.

There have, therefore, been four depressions during the month, the only one of much importance being that which lasted from the 13th to the 21st. Of the others, two appeared in the centre of the province—one on the 1st, the other on the 26th. The last, commencing on the 26th in the north-west corner of the Bay, moved to the north west, and slightly intensified over the North-West Provinces.

Strength of the monsoon.—The strength of the monsoon current blowing from the Bay over Bengal from year to year can only be judged by the wind velocities at the coast stations In the table below are given the means of the actual daily wind velocities for July 1888 and 1889, compared with the normal values for the same month at representative stations along the coast line from Akyab to Gopalpore, at which wind observations have been made for a sufficient length of time to give reliable averages It will be seen that the strength of the current has been distributed in a manner very similar to that of last year, but has been weaker on the west coast of the Bay. Of these seven stations, four are considerably in excess of the normal, and three deficient by smaller amounts. Taking into consideration both the cases of defect and excess, it would appear that on the average the strength of the monsoon current during July has been equal to that of former years, though weaker than for 1888:—

Pressure—Was in excess in the first half of the month, and deficient during the second half. During the first week the excess was very uniform in the different districts, being in nearly all cases six to seven hundredths of an inch. In Behar and part of North Bengal it was not quite so much. During the second week the excess increased to a tenth of an inch in South-West and East Bengal, and in the other districts increased one or two hundredths. The very low pressure then began to set in over the Bay and the province, giving the depression which continued throughout the whole of the third week. The defects ranged from three hundredths in Behar to considerably over a tenth of an inch at some of the Orissa stations. The defect at False Point was 0·139 inch and at Cuttack 0·11 inch. A very rapid rise followed, and though pressure remained below the normal in all districts, except Orissa, until near the end of the month, the differences were small, and did not generally exceed one or two hundredths of an inch. Pressure was steadily rising during the last few days, and at the end of the month was considerably in excess.

Temperature—Was generally in excess during the first week by one to two degrees. During the second week it diminished, but there was still excess in all districts except North Bengal and North Behar. Very little rain fell from the 10th to the 20th, and temperature increased considerably everywhere, and was above the normal by amounts ranging from 2° to 4°. There was another fall during the last part of the month, and the average temperature was very slightly in excess. The mean for the whole month is in excess in all districts of Bengal, but is deficient in Assam. The largest excess is 1° in Orissa. It is 0·9° in East and South-West Bengal, 0·8° in South Behar and Chutia Nagpur, 0·4° in North Behar, and 0·2° in North Bengal. The defect for Assam is 0·7°.

Rainfall—Has been rather largely in defect in all districts, except North Bengal and North Behar, where there is a large but irregular excess. The average fall for those last districts is a little over sixteen inches, and the excess 3·68 inches in North Behar, and 2·79 in North Bengal. The largest defect is 3 inches in Chutia Nagpur, with an average fall of 10 16 inches. In South-West Bengal it is 1·98 inches with a fall of 10 07 inches, East Bengal 1·4 inches, Orissa 1·29 inches, and South Behar 0·78 inch. Though the wind strength during the month has been considerably greater on the west coast than on the east, as shown by the table of wind velocities above, the area of most deficient rainfall is on the west of the province, including Orissa, part of South-West Bengal and Chutia Nagpur. Last year, with a somewhat similar wind distribution, Orissa was the only district reporting deficient rainfall during the month of July.

The comparison of the actual rainfall of the seven meteorological divisions of the province during July with the normal is most accurately shown in the form of a percentage. The figures representing the rainfall for the month, calculated in this way, are included in the table below under the heading of July. This table gives a condensed summary of the rainfall statistics of the present year up to date for each division, the first seven columns giving the actual rainfall in each month expressed as a percentage of the normal, while the eighth column shows the actual rainfall for the first seven months expressed as a percentage of the normal for the same period :—

The largest actual falls occurred in North Bengal—in the Darjeeling Hills, Kurseong, and Buxa 71 inches, Darjeeling 55 inches; in Julpigoree, Fallacatta 48 inches; in Cooch Behar, Metabhanga 49 inches, and Cooch Behar 41 inches. Alipore Dooars reported 40 inches, and several other stations from thirty to forty inches. In Rungpore the largest falls were 22 inches at Bagdogra, and 17 inches at Kurigram, the others being from 10 to 15 inches. In the other districts of North Bengal falls exceeded 15 inches at one or two stations, the general fall being between 6 and 10 inches. A few heavy falls are reported in East Bengal—Durgapore 36 inches, Netrokona 28 7 inches, Cox's Bazaar 28·5 inches, Fenny 27·8 inches, and Kutubdia 24 inches. A few other stations report over 20 inches, but at most of the stations falls are between 10 and 15 inches. The next heaviest falls are in North Behar—Kissengunge 30 inches, Protabgunge 29·4 inches, Matiari 28 inches, Motihari 25 inches, and Bagaha 21·8 inches. The other falls are from 10 to 20 inches. The heaviest falls in Orissa are—24 inches at Jagatsingpore, 16 inches at Kendrapara, 15 inches at Khurdah and Salipore. A few others are 10 or 11 inches, and the lowest are 4 inches at Balasore and Jellasore. The heaviest in South-West Bengal is 16 inches at Mehesreka. In the Bankoora division several falls of 14 inches are reported; in Moorshehabad two of 13 inches and two of 12 inches, but at a large number the falls, though close on 10 inches, do not exceed it. In South Behar the heaviest are 21 inches at Pakour and 17 inches at Buxar. A fair number are from 12 to 15 inches and a few under 10 inches. In Chutia Nagpur, Ranchee reports 18·5 inches, Hazaribagh, Semtagurah, Chatra, Raghunathpore, and Barrahboom 12 to 13 inches. The others are nearly all under 10 inches.

The distribution, as compared with the normal, shows considerable irregularity, but generally the whole of the southern part of the province is in defect. This includes Chittagong, the Sunderbuns, the whole of South-West Bengal, the greater part of Orissa, Chutia Nagpur, and South Behar. Within this area several limited tracts of country received rain slightly in excess. The most important are South Orissa including Pooree, part of Cuttack and Jagatsingpore, where the excess in one case exceeded 13 inches; a strip of country from Poluberiah north-east, in which the differences are small and amounts practically normal; in part of the Sonthal Pergunnahs and Jungipore. The largest defects are in South-West Bengal and Chittagong, and occasionally exceed 10 inches. In the west of Chutia Nagpur defect of 5 inches occurs, but generally the defects do not exceed 3 inches. In North Behar, North Bengal and the north-east of East Bengal, rainfall is in places largely in excess; at Metabhanga 29·3, Darjeeling 25·5, Buxa 23, Siligooree 16, Netrokona 15, and Motihari 14 inches, while in Cooch Behar an area of highly difficient rainfall occurs. The defect is 19 inches at Cooch Behar, and 15·7 inches at Mickligunge. Over a large part of these districts the excess is from 4 to 8 inches.

The following table gives full data for the comparison of the actual and normal rainfall for July in all districts. The first column gives the normal rainfall; the second the actual district rainfall as determined from the weighted rainfalls of the month; the third expresses the percentage of actual to normal rainfall; and the fourth the excess or defect per cent. of normal:—

* Means for 6 days.

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period for the last ten years. The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed at percentage, saturated air being presented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The number of rainy days are the numerical means or average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the sub-divisional station for the period in question during the past 21 years. The rainfall at stations in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least hundredth of an inch fell.

for the week ending Friday, the 9th of August 1889.

CALCUTTA, the 13th August 1889.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 9TH OF AUGUST 1889.

THE chief features of the meteorology of the week have been the small depression which appeared at the head of the Bay in the early part of the week, and the light general rain which has been falling in all districts during the greater part of the week. On Saturday, the 3rd, the lowest pressure was in North Bengal, and the steep gradients over the Bay seemed to show that a strong current from the coast to this low-pressure area in North Bengal would cause heavy rain over the province. Winds were feebly cyclonic round the area, while in other districts normal winds were blowing. Rain was local, and very heavy showers occurred at a few stations. On Sunday, the 4th, however, a rapid rise of pressure took place in North Bengal, the depression there disappearing, and abnormal conditions began to appear at the head of the Bay. A trough of low pressure extended over South-West Bengal and the north-west corner of the Bay, and into this indraught began on Sunday at some of the coast stations, wind directions on the Arakan and Chittagong coasts becoming easterly, while the westerly tendency in the winds on the Orissa coast became stronger. Pressure changes on this day were small, except in North Bengal, and there was an increase everywhere except Orissa, where a very slight fall took place. Rain was scattered in most districts, but was fairly general in Behar and Chutia Nagpur. A brisk fall followed on Monday along the Orissa coast, and the depression had developed considerably, the cyclonic circulation extending over the whole province. Winds were very light everywhere. Heavy rain fell in Orissa, and local heavy showers elsewhere, while light rain was general. The low-pressure area was to the west of the Orissa coast, which it approached rapidly, passing inland some time during the night of Monday. Pressure continued to fall in Orissa during Monday, and a considerable defect was developed there; but after the passing of the centre of the slight storm, a rapid rise, general over the whole province, reduced the defect in Orissa to about a twentieth of an inch, and caused excess of about the same amount in other parts. Winds were still cyclonic, and though the heavy rain ceased in Orissa, there was still general rain for two or three days. Rain was then very light everywhere and temperature rising. During the development of the depression wind velocity was everywhere very low, but on Tuesday the stormy weather which was in the rear of the storm was felt in the north-west corner and along the coast beyond Gopalpur. The sea was rough and winds rather strong, especially at Gopalpur, where it averaged 28 miles an hour on Tuesday. This somewhat rough weather lasted for one day only, and normal weather was experienced over the Bay during the remaining three days of the week. Conditions were slightly disturbed on the east coast, as indraught continued there after the passing away of the storm of Monday and Tuesday. A further rapid rise of pressure occurred on Thursday, followed by a fall on Friday, and the week ended with high pressure in all districts except Orissa and part of Assam, where it was very nearly normal. During the latter half of the week ordinary light monsoon weather prevailed, with very light winds, light rain, moist humid air, and a large amount of cloud in all districts.

Pressure—Changes have been large and important on several days. On the 3rd there was a rapid fall of nearly a tenth of an inch everywhere, and exceeding that amount in North Bengal. The resulting depression filled up on the following day, there being a general rise except in Orissa. Pressure was then deficient everywhere by about a twentieth of an inch. On Monday and Tuesday similar changes occurred, though they were generally small, a moderate fall being reported from Orissa on both of these days. The depression near Orissa was intensifying, and a large defect existed, being nearly a fifth of an inch at Gopalpur. A rapid rise followed on Wednesday, exceeding a tenth of an inch in Orissa and South-West Bengal, and lying between seven and nine-hundredths elsewhere. The rise continued with moderate rapidity on Thursday, and there was then more than a tenth of an inch excess, except in Orissa. A slight fall was general on Friday. In consequence of there being a large defect in the early part of the week, and quite as large an excess during the latter half, the means for the week are very nearly normal, except in Orissa, where defects are about a twentieth of an inch. In South-West Bengal variations do not exceed a few thousandths of an inch, and in other districts two or three hundredths.

Temperature—Has generally been in excess at the different stations, and the means for the week differ from the normal by amounts ranging from one to two degrees. The largest differences are in North Bengal, Behar and Chutia Nagpur, sometimes amounting to 3°. In Orissa, South-West and East Bengal they are generally under 2° and over 1·5°. The means for the seven districts and Assam are all in excess, Orissa 1·3°, East Bengal 1·2°, Assam 1·1°, North Bengal 1°, and the others are between 0·5° and 1°. Though the largest differences are in those districts where the mean is smallest, that is owing to many of these stations having a mean temperature very little in excess of the normal, while in Orissa and East Bengal the means at the various stations were very uniform.

Rainfall—Has been generally light, but rather heavy local showers have been frequently reported. The mean falls are all rather largely in defect, except for Orissa. The general lightness of the rainfall is shown more clearly by the number of rainy days being more than the average in all districts. During the disturbed weather near Orissa in the early part of the week very heavy rain fell, while in other districts it was invariably light. Orissa received an average fall of 3·4 inches; South-West Bengal, East Bengal and South Behar slightly over 2 inches; Chutia Nagpur and North Bengal 1·6 inches; and North Behar 1·1 inches. The defects are very nearly 2 inches in East Bengal, North Bengal and North Behar, 1·5 inches in Chutia Nagpur, 1 inch in South-West Bengal, and 0·6 inch in South Behar. The excess in Orissa is 0·73 inch. The heaviest falls are, in North Bengal—Kurseong and Buxa 13 inches, Fallacotta 10·9 inches, Julpigoree, Bhagatpore and Mickliguuge over ·6 inches. In North Behar, Kaliaganj and Bahera are over 6 inches; in South Behar, Dehree 6·2 inches, Monghyr and Gogri 5·2 inches; in Chutia Nagpur, Ghatsilla 6·2 inches and Jhalda 5 inches. No very heavy falls are reported from Orissa, South-West Bengal and East Bengal. In the first the falls were much more uniform than in the other districts, and are generally 4 to 5 inches. In South-West Bengal there is also considerable uniformity, a good many stations reporting 4 to 5 inches.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Friday, the 9th of August 1889:—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

MEMORANDUM.

THE number of deaths registered during the month of June 1889 in the districts of Bengal (excluding the Chitpur and Cassipur, and the Manicktolla Municipalities in 24-Pergunnahs, which have recently been constituted as such since the amalgamation of the greater portion of the Suburbs with the Town of Calcutta, and the required statistics from which have not yet been, nor are likely to be soon received) amounted to 108,532 among a population of 65,809,553, yielding a death-rate of 19·68 per 1,000, against 20·88 per 1,000 in the preceding month, and 19·08 per 1,000 during the corresponding month of 1888, showing, as compared with the former period, a retrogression in the number of deaths recorded.

2. The undermentioned districts returned the highest proportions of deaths :—

Districts.	Ratio per mille.	Districts.	Ratio per mille.
Poori	109·68	Julpaiguri	30·24
Balasore	69·24	Noakhali	26·76
Darjiling	45·48	Burdwan	24·60
Cuttack	42·60	Birbhum	23·16

3. The following diseases proved fatal at the rates noted opposite to them : —

Injury	·60	·60
Other causes	2·40	2·76

The only noticeable point apparent from the above figures is that there was a considerable increase of fatal results from cholera with a diminution in that from fever.

4. Of the diseases above indicated, small-pox was noticeably severe in the Chumparun district (mortality 2·28 per 1,000 of population), bowel-complaints in the Darjiling district (mortality 10·56 per 1,000 of population), and the unspecified diseases coming under the head of "Other causes" in the Poori district mortality 11·52 per 1,000 of population); while cholera and fever gave rise to the highest mortality in the following districts :—

* A special census of the Europeans in the Darjiling Municipality was recently taken, as the census of this section of the community, taken in February 1881, was not reliable owing to the Europeans being at a minimum in that month. The number of the natives remains as before, as it was not necessary to re-census them. The ratios have consequently been calculated on the revised population under all heads in the above table, except "Age," the ratios under which have been calculated on the old census, owing to the results of the census under this head not having been recorded under the authorized form of age classification.

Increases.

	Tons.
Rice	600

The whole of this increase was contributed by the northern section. All the stations on the southern, and most of those on the eastern, section show a decrease in consequence of the failure of the crops.

Jute, screwed	950

Narainganj station contributed the major portion of this increase.

Oilseeds	4,888

The increase was influenced by the large demand and the very favourable rates which prevailed in Calcutta during the month.

Railway plant	7,988

For construction purposes, Assam Behar State Railway.

Sugar	627

Rajbari, Khoksa and Saraghat show the principal increases.

Decreases.

Jute, unscrewed	361

The decrease is in despatches from Kooshtea and Damookdia Ghât.

Kerosine oil	522

The decrease is due to a scarcity of oil in the Calcutta market owing to short supply from the United States, &c.

Betelnuts	359

This decrease is influenced by the diversion from the Bengal Central Railway by the Bengal Central Flotilla of the betelnut traffic from Nalchiti and other river stations.

Salt	393

The principal decrease was in the despatches from Chitpore. Aghat also shows a falling off of about 1,200 maunds.

General remarks on the fluctuation of principal staples carried over the East Indian Railway during five weeks and one day ended 30th June 1889.

INCREASES.

Coal and coke.—There was an increase in both the upward and downward traffic: the former was due to demand by the Bengal and North-Western, the Oudh and Rohilkund, and the Bombay, Baroda and Central Indian Railways. The increase in the downward traffic was due, as previously stated, to the greater consumption of Indian coal by sea-going steamers, also to despatches for the Eastern Bengal State Railway.

Cotton.—This increase was principally in despatches from Delhi vid Delhi, Khurja, Hathras, Agra and vid Agra to Howrah for export.

Piece-goods, European.—This was chiefly in the despatches from Howrah to the different trade centres in the North-Western Provinces and Punjab.

Gunny.—Due to an improved demand up-country.

Gram and pulses.—This increase was due in a great measure to the exceptionally good crops of the Agra and Delhi districts, and to the strong demand for local consumption in Calcutta.

Other rain and spring crops.—The increase was in barley, maize and other grains from vid Ghaziabad to Howrah, Hathras, Agra, and Aligarh, also in oats from Patna vid Mokameh Ghât and vid Digha Ghât to Howrah.

Minerals.—This was almost entirely in lime from Katni and Ondal for the Kidderpore dock-works.

Brass and copper.—Chiefly in despatches from Howrah and vid Chitpore to the large centres in the North-West, due to a fall in prices in the European markets.

Railway material, Foreign.—The increase was principally in despatches from Howrah and vid Chitpore to Asansol and Katni for the Bengal-Nagpore Railway, and to Benares for the Oudh and Rohilkund Railway.

Seeds.—Chiefly in linseed to Howrah, due to an active demand for export.

Stones.—The increase was chiefly in despatches from Pakur to Calcutta for municipal purposes, and from Mirzapore to the Port Trust Railway stations in connection with the Kidderpore dock-works.

Sugar, refined and unrefined.—There was a decrease in the weight carried, attended with an increase in earnings—the former was due to considerable short lead traffic carried last year from Shadara to Agra and Hatras and from Aligarh and vid Aligarh to vid Hatras. The increased earnings were chiefly in sugar despatched to Calcutta from stations in the Shahabad district.

Tobacco.—Chiefly in despatches from Patna vid Mokameh Ghât and vid Digha Ghât.

DECREASES.

Wheat.—The decrease in this staple was due to bad crops, poor demand, and high prices.

Rice, husked and unhusked.—There was an increase in weight carried, and a decrease in earnings—the former was due to larger quantities being despatched from short distance stations to Calcutta, and the latter to despatches last year from the loop line stations to North-Western Provinces, where the demand was very strong.

Government stores.—The falling off was almost entirely in despatches of ordnance stores from Howrah to the Punjab.

Iron.—Chiefly in despatches from Howrah vid Chitpore and Barakar owing to poor demand up-country.

Salt.—This decrease was principally in despatches from Howrah to Patna, Gya, and stations on the Bengal and North-Western Railway, and this is attributable to scarcity of food-grains in the districts mentioned above, and also to high prices in Calcutta.

Spices.—Chiefly in chillies from Mokameh and Tirhoot, due to poor crops.

WE have the honour to report that, in accordance with the instructions contained in the Government of Bengal's letter No. 1581Marine, dated the 17th July 1889, we made the ninth quarterly inspection of the works at the Kidderpore Docks, as shown in the progress report submitted by the Superintending Engineer of the Docks on the 5th July last.

2. The index plan with tabular statement showing work done during the quarter under report, and the total quantity of work executed from the commencement of the Docks, which have been prepared by the Superintending Engineer in charge of the Works, are with Government.

PERMANENT WORKS.

Sixty-feet Lock.—About 6½ lakhs of excavation were taken out and over 3 lakhs masonry and 19,904 square feet of foundation were done during the quarter. The two end and centre sections of the lock have been built up to coping level. The founding of the intervening sections was well in hand on our inspection, and arrangements were being made for the erection of the gates.

Eighty-feet Entrance—Over 3 lakhs of excavation were taken out, and 165,000 cubic feet of masonry and 14,876 square feet of foundation were done during the quarter. The foundation of this work is now well in hand.

Tidal Basin.—Over 1⅓ lakhs of excavation, including that for quay wall foundation, were taken out. Work on the quay walls was stopped pending further progress on the eighty-feet and double entrances.

Graving Dock.—This work is now well in hand, and good progress may be expected. During the quarter, about 7 lakhs of excavation were removed and nearly 4 lakhs of masonry and 31,743 square feet of foundation were done.

Double Entrance.—Over 2 lakhs of excavation were taken out and nearly 2½ lakhs of masonry and 15,113 square feet of foundation were done. This work is now in good progress.

Dock No. 1.—Up to date about 80 per cent. of the total quay wall masonry has been completed and about half the total excavation taken out. During the quarter, 354 running feet foundation and 201,561 cubic feet masonry were done, and 56¼ lakhs of excavation removed.

Boat Canal.—The piers and abutments for the road bridges were commenced, and good progress was made with them, and excavation for the foundations for the lift lock and syphon culvert was commenced.

Expenditure.—The total expenditure up to end of the quarter was reported to be Rs. 1,43,91,973, of which Rs. 1,17,91,094 were spent on account of works and Rs. 26,00,879 for land.

SANITARY.

The average number of work people employed was 10,027, among whom there were 14·3 deaths (5·3 of these being from cholera), showing a death-rate of 15·84 per thousand per annum.

GENERAL REMARKS.

We are of opinion that fair progress has been made with the works, and that, so far as we have been able to judge from our inspection, the character of the work is satisfactory.

I.—The Commander of every vessel, including buggalows or other native craft, arriving from Bussorah, shall, before entering the harbour, indicate by signal the port from which such vessel has come.

II.—Such Commander shall not, except as hereinafter provided, allow any communication, either with the pilot boat, except orally, or with the shore, or with any other vessel or boat in the harbour.

III.—Immediately on arrival, the Commander shall cause the letter R of the Commercial Signal Code to be hoisted, and shall keep the said flag flying during his stay in port, or until authorized by the Health Officer to haul it down. If communication with the shore is not desired, the vessel shall anchor at such place as may be pointed out by the Port authorities, having regard to the season of the year. If communication with the shore is desired, the Health Officer shall go alongside the vessel, and, after all necessary enquiries, shall direct the Commander to take the vessel to the quarantine anchorage duly appointed and notified in that behalf by the Resident, there to remain for a period of seven days from the date of arrival, or for the shorter period prescribed in Rule IV, and undergo disinfection, which should apply as well to crew, passengers, effects, and suspectible goods.

IV.—If the Health Officer of the Port has sufficient evidence that no cases of a suspicious nature have taken place on board during the voyage, and if the vessel is besides in good hygienic condition, the duration of the quarantine will be diminished according to the following scale:—

After eight days of voyage		...	...	six days of quarantine.

VI.—When any vessel has been placed in quarantine as aforesaid, the Health Officer may direct the removal of so many of the passengers and crew as may not be suffering from illness, and whose services may not be required on board the vessel, to such particular spots as may from time to time be selected by the Resident as places of quarantine, there to remain for a period of seven days. If a case of cholera occurs among such passengers and crew during any such period, they shall remain in a place of quarantine for a period of fifteen days from the date of the occurrence of the last case of such illness.

VII.—Any mails or cargo which may be brought by any vessel so arriving shall be landed under such precautions as the Health Officer may deem necessary to prevent the spread of the disease.

Such supplies will be placed on the boats of the vessels in quarantine, to be subsequently removed by members of their crews.

IX.—All vessels arriving at Aden and Perim, which may have communicated with vessels coming from Bussorah, shall be subjected to the same quarantine as vessels arriving at Aden and Perim from that Port.

At least six weeks before the date fixed for any general election as hereinafter provided, a copy of the whole register, showing the persons qualified to vote, shall be published by the Magistrate at the Municipal Office, or, in the case of a newly-created Municipality, at such place within the Municipality as the Magistrate may direct. 16. Any rate-payer may, for the Ward in which he is qualified to vote, nominate any other qualified person as a candidate.

17. The Magistrate shall, at least six weeks before the date fixed for the commencement of the elections, issue notices, calling for nominations of candidates. Such nominations shall be delivered at the Municipal Office, or, if there is no Municipal Office, at such place as the Magistrate may appoint, within fourteen days from the date of publication of the notices in question. No names of candidates shall be received after the expiration of such period.

18. The preliminary list of candidates, with the names of the persons nominating them, shall be published in each Ward and at the Municipal Office, or if there is no Municipal Office, at such place as the Magistrate may appoint, at least three weeks before the date fixed for the commencement of the elections. A notification shall at the same time be published, fixing a date for the hearing of objections to candidates. Such date shall be at least one week later than the publication of the notification in question.

19. The Magistrate shall hear and decide all objections to candidates, and his decision shall be final. Before publishing the final list, he shall ascertain that all the candidates are eligible and willing to stand for election.

20. The final list of candidates shall be published in each Ward and at the Municipal Office, or, if there is no Municipal Office, at such place as the Magistrate may appoint, at least one week before the date fixed for the commencement of the elections. No candidate whose name is not contained in such list shall be eligible for election.

Of the manner of holding elections.

21. The elections shall be held on such dates as may be fixed by the Commissioner and notified by him in the Calcutta Gazette.

22. The Magistrate shall decide at what place the election for each Ward shall be held, and shall fix the hours at which the poll shall commence and close.

23. The date, time and place fixed for the election in each Ward shall be duly notified by beat of drum, and by the publication of notices in such Ward at least one month beforehand.

24. Each voter shall be entitled to vote for the Ward in which he ordinarily resides and for no other. He shall be entitled to vote for as many candidates as there are vacancies for such Ward:

Provided that, where the Municipality has not been divided into Wards, each voter shall be entitled to vote for as many candidates as there are vacancies on the whole Municipal Board.

Provided also that he may give all or any number of the votes to which he is entitled to any one candidate.

25. All persons wishing to vote must be present at the elections. No votes by proxy or in writing shall be received.

26. The Magistrate, or such other officer as the Magistrate may depute for the purpose, shall preside at the election for each Ward, assisted by a Committee of not less than three and not more than five rate-payers of the Ward nominated by the Magistrate. In case of the non-attendance of any of the members of such Committee, their places may be filled up by the presiding officer from the rate-payers present at the polling station.

27. The proceedings shall commence by the presiding officer explaining the nature and objects of the meeting to the assembled voters. He shall then read out the list of candidates, and state the number of vacancies.

28. Each candidate shall then be proposed by one qualified voter, and seconded by another. Subject to the control of the presiding officer on points of order, each candidate and his proposer and seconder shall be permitted to address the assembled voters on the subject of his candidature. The names of candidates not duly proposed and seconded shall be removed from the list.

29. In the case of the number of the candidates duly proposed and seconded not being greater than the number of vacancies, the presiding officer shall at once declare such candidates to be duly elected.

30. If the number of candidates duly proposed and seconded exceeds the number of vacancies, the presiding officer shall proceed to call for a show of hands in favour of each candidate. The presiding officer shall decide and state which of the candidates have received the largest number of votes by the said show of hands. Should no poll be demanded against any one candidate, he shall declare such candidate to be duly elected.

31. Any defeated candidate, or his proposer or seconder, may demand a poll on his behalf, as against any or all of the candidates selected under the above rule.

32. When a poll is demanded, the names of the voters and the votes given by them shall then and there be recorded by the presiding officer or by the members of the election committee under his personal supervision. All objections to voters shall, if possible, be summarily decided by the presiding officer after reference to the register. No objections shall be entertained other than objections arising out of matters subsequent to registration under Rule 10.

33. The presiding officer shall not declare the poll to be closed until a period of not less than two hours has elapsed from the time when the poll was demanded, unless every voter who has been duly registered under these rules shall have previously recorded his vote.

34. The presiding officer shall then and there declare such candidates as have a clear majority of votes to be duly elected. Provided that, if the majority for any candidate consists only of votes to which objections have been raised, and if the presiding officer has been unable to decide such objections summarily as provided by Rule 32, he shall adjourn the proceedings and report the matter to the Magistrate. The Magistrate shall hold such enquiry regarding the disputed votes as shall be necessary, and his decision shall be final. On the termination of such enquiry, he shall declare such candidates as have a clear majority of votes to be duly elected.

35. In case of an equality of votes for the same vacancy, and when the number of vacancies does not admit of all the candidates who have obtained an equality of votes being elected, the presiding officer, or, in the case prescribed in the proviso to Rule 34, the Magistrate, shall give a casting vote or votes.

36. In the event of any candidate being elected for two or more Wards, such candidate shall be at liberty to choose the Ward which he will represent, and in every other Ward in which the said candidate has been returned, the result of the election shall be determined as if no votes had been recorded for him. Provided that, if there is no other candidate for whom votes have been recorded to fill up the vacancy thus caused, a fresh election shall be held.

37. The list of duly returned candidates for the whole Municipality shall be forwarded to the Commissioner of the Division for publication by him in the Calcutta Gazette.

Miscellaneous.

38 No person in the employment or pay of the Municipality shall, directly or indirectly, engage in canvassing for votes, or otherwise assist in the election of any candidate, otherwise than by giving his own vote. Any breach of this rule will render him liable to dismissal.

39. All costs incurred in the preparation of the register of voters, the publication of notices, the holding of elections, or taking any other necessary action under these rules, shall be payable by the Commissioners out of the municipal fund. In the case of a newly-created Municipality, in which no municipal fund has been formed, the Magistrate of the district shall advance such sums as may be required; and such sums shall be recoverable from the Municipal Commissioners within six months.

SCARCITY IN THE PATNA DIVISION.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—FAMINE.

Calcutta, the 15th August 1889.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Report of the Commissioner of Patna, No. 374G.F., dated 10th August, 1889, on the scarcity in that Division during the fortnight ending the 31st July, 1889.

The Lieutenant-Governor's tour.

This report is submitted late, as the Commissioner was in attendance on the Lieutenant-Governor throughout his tour in the affected districts in North Behar, and it covers in fact the period of that tour, which lasted from the 15th July to the 7th August. His Honour was at Bankipore from the 16th to 20th of July, in Mozufferpore from the 20th to 23rd, 25th to 29th July, and the 2nd to 7th August, in Chumparun from 23rd to 25th, and in the Durbhunga district from 29th July to 2nd August. During that time he visited as much of the affected area as was not inaccessible by reason of the floods, and was in constant communication with the District Officers, District Engineers, indigo-planters, and native gentlemen, all of whom were in a position to supply trustworthy information regarding different parts of the country. It will be convenient to combine the narrative of the Lieutenant-Governor's movements, his observations and the Commissioner's report into one general account. The three districts in which there is distress will be taken separately.

Mozufferpore.

2. In Mozufferpore there is much apprehension of the scarcity and consequent suffering being prolonged by the floods which have occurred since the heavy rain of the 23rd to 25th July. The overflow of the Boor Gunduk, which has risen this year above its highest recorded level, has been aggravated by the breach in the long Turki embankment south of the Bagmutti, and these floods have been the immediate cause of much injury to the crops in the centre of the district: to the south-west the water from the main Gunduk has come down from the Chumparun district, and in the Sitamurhi division the overflow from several hill streams has been locally severe enough not only to interfere with the use of the main roads, but to threaten communications in the interior for a time. The exact area affected by the inundations is not yet known, but it has been estimated that the damage done to the bhadoi crops, which were previously very promising, has been to the extent of 6 annas (as it is termed) in the Mozufferpore thana, 5 in Kuttra, 3 in Paru, or an average of 5 annas in the Sudder sub-division, 3 annas in the Sitamurhi thana, 1 in Sheohur, 6 in Poopree, or an average of 3 annas in the Sitamurhi sub-division. On all high lands the crops still continue to promise well. The tracts, where relief has hitherto been given, though not unaffected by the floods, have suffered comparatively little, and the serious loss to be anticipated is in those which have received the waters of the Bagmutti, the Boor Gunduk, and the main Gunduk. No relief works are in progress, as they were all practically closed by the 12th July, except the work obtainable on the Durbhunga-Sitamurhi-Bairagnia extension of the Tirhoot State Railway under professional agency. The contractors experience great difficulty in obtaining labourers, ample work being for the present available in the fields both in weeding and transplanting the seedlings. The number of persons, 3,027, requiring gratuitous relief is increasing; uncooked food is distributed at 13 centres to 2,609 persons, and cooked food at three places to nearly 500 recipients; zemindars are giving gratuitous relief to some 2,765. Arrangements have been made to facilitate communications by boats where roads have been breached or are unbridged. Stocks show no sign of depletion, but prices have risen from 12 seers 8 chittacks to 11 seers the rupee, and to 8⅔ seers and 10⅔ seers in places in the Sitamurhi sub-division. Pending the receipt of more complete information, the Lieutenant-Governor has directed liberal grants to be made for agricultural loans and gratuitous relief, and has allotted for these purposes as a provisional grant Rs. 15,000 and Rs. 5,000 respectively, besides strengthening the staff at the Collector's disposal. He was unable to visit Sitamurhi, as he had intended, the roads being for the time impassable.

Durbhunga.

3. In Durbhunga relief works on roads were being closed, though 5,726 persons were still daily at work on the dressing and turfing of roads and tanks at the end of July. In the Madhubani sub-division, which contains the affected area, prices are almost stationary, ranging from 10 seers 12 chittacks to 12 seers 8 chittacks the rupee for common rice at the various marts, and at one place touching 8 seers the rupee: at Durbhunga the previous fall of price from 11 seers 6 chittacks to 12 seers 8 chittacks the rupee has continued to 13 seers 6 chittacks. After the heavy rain on the 25th July the rivers Daus and Kumla rose, and a considerable tract of country was inundated, especially near Bulwa, but as they subsided in three or four days no great damage was done, only some of the bhadoi in the low lands was washed away. These lands will now be put under rice, which is the important crop in this tract. No anxiety is now felt for this district.

The Lieutenant-Governor in the Madhubani sub-division.

4. The Lieutenant-Governor made a long excursion from Durbhunga through the most severely affected tracts of the Madhubani sub-division vid Raika, Benipati, and Umgaon on the Nepal frontier and then down to Gangaur. The area which was said to have suffered most damage from the floods was skirted. The Circle Officer met His Honour and gave him an estimate of the damage done. It appeared that not more than two annas of the whole area in this circle sown with bhadoi (and this year an unusually large area was sown) would be injured by the floods, and the rice crop was everywhere most flourishing. The Lieutenant-Governor was unable to visit the neighbouring circles of Soorsund and Parihar, where the distress has also been very severe, and where also the floods have caused much anxiety; but he learnt that the floods had gone down, doing but little damage, and that the prospects of the bhadoi are good, though relief operations both on the part of Government and of the Maharaja of Durbhunga and other wealthy landholders must be continued for some time longer. The lands under water near Durbhunga are annually subject to flood. There was nothing unusual about the flood of this year, and the water went down almost as rapidly as it rose, so that the crops were but slightly injured, and this part of the country was not within the really distressed area. The roads which had been repaired by famine relief labour were in excellent condition, and the affected area had good water communication throughout; the rivers, running from north to south, are easily navigable during the rains, and are connected at numerous points by useful roads. The people were in better condition than had been expected: none of the men bore any signs of suffering from want of food, and few of the women and children showed traces of aggravated distress. At Benipati some of those collected at the kitchen were thin and wretched, but they were of the regular professional beggar class. It was only at Gangaur, where some 400 or 500 people were still employed in sloping and finishing a large famine relief tank, that many of the women and children showed signs of privation. The Lieutenant-Governor was very well satisfied with the condition and prospect of the crops that he saw; the marwa was everywhere ripe, and was in some places being reaped, a good and full crop. The dhan appeared to be in firstrate condition; late rain had facilitated transplanting in higher land, and yet had not been too heavy for the crop in the hollows. The stock of seedlings appeared most ample, and everything looked promising for a good outturn. On the subsidence of the floods, the ryots were expected to resow with dhan the lands on which their crops had perished, or where the water would still be too deep for that the rubbee would make amends. The relief works in progress are very essential to the maintenance of the earthwork; the labourers are principally women and children, as the men are wanted for the fields. His Honour inspected famine relief tanks, finished and unfinished, at Benipati, Gyurpur, Mani, Barohur, Satgaon, Umgaon, Durgapati and Gangaur; only some of these were still open. At Satgaon 26 persons were being fed daily at a relief kitchen, the number there never having exceeded 81. There was a strongly built bamboo enclosure entered through a narrow passage and divided into two compartments for Hindus and for Mahomedans, and with narrow exits at the further end of each compartment. The Public Works Overseer distributes tickets to those who have completed their tasks under him, and the tickets are given up on their entering the enclosure. The meal is cooked by Brahmin cooks, and every precaution is taken not to offend caste prejudices. Owing to breaches in the roads, His Honour was unable to get across to Bulwa, a place where poor people had been fed daily at a time when the distress was greater than at the time of his visit to the neigbourhood.

and to east of Durbhunga.

His Honour also went by train some 70 miles east of Durbhunga to Pertabgunge, the end of the Tirhoot State Railway near the Kosi river. The damage caused by the floods in this direction was of a very limited character,—although they had broken down a bridge on the line near Normali,—and on both sides of the railway the crop bore a very healthy appearance.

Chumparun.

5. In Chumparun unusually heavy rain has caused floods, which have seriously aggravated the sufferings of the people. In the Bettiah sub-division the Gunduk, on the western boundary, reached a higher level than had been attained in the last six years; a heavy flood also came down the Sikrana and its kindred streams. But on the whole the damage was comparatively slight in this sub-division, as most of the tract covered is liable to inundation and suffers to some extent every year. Tuppa Bahas in the Sudder sub-division, outside the affected area, has suffered so much that it may be necessary to regard it as affected. The Gunduk embankment burst at the 60th mile opposite Sareyal, and the spill extends eastwards until it meets the Byah nullah at the 83rd mile, so that the inundated area is calculated at about 50 square miles. The Lalbakeya, a branch of the Bagmati, and the Bagmati itself, also overflowed and caused damage to certain villages. The enquiries are not yet complete, but in the preliminary reports received it is hoped that the bhadoi crop will be a twelve-anna crop, though the rice crop in the inundated area will be a small one—the estimates say not more than four annas—all the best lands in the deep hollows having gone. The villages affected by the bursting or cutting of the Tikaha bund have lost eight annas of their paddy, and twelve annas of their bhadoi. In the area under water comparatively little makai is grown; the chief bhadoi crops in the villages affected are sathi and serah paddy, and both these crops promise to be excellent and fully counterbalance the loss of makai. The latest information up to the 12th August is that several villages in the area previously affected are badly damaged by the floods, but that in most villages the prospects are good. The flood is found to have extended over an area larger than was at first anticipated, but the damage is less intense. The floods are subsiding rapidly. The rainfall up to date has doubled the normal amount, but there has been a break. The submerged aghani dhan has been for the most part retransplanted. The prospects depend upon a continuance of fine weather and the ability of the cultivators to secure paddy seedlings. It is feared that the chour lands or hollows which generally produce a good harvest will yield none this year. Stocks are apparently sufficient, and importations are being made by boat where possible. Relief works have all been closed, and none of any value can be carried out in the inundated areas. Gratuitous relief was being distributed to 153 persons in the affected area and to 135 in Motihari. The recipients of gratuitous relief are now said to number over 1,000. Prices have slightly risen all round, and common rice instead of being at 11 seers now ranges from 9 seers 12 chittacks to 10 seers the rupee. Relief works of any value being practically impossible in a flooded country, the Collector has asked as a provisional estimate for Rs. 3,500 to be distributed, if required, in gratuitous relief, and for authority to make advances under the Agriculturists' Loans Act, after the usual enquiries, to the sum of Rs. 30,000 in addition to that already sanctioned for this purpose. The Lieutenant-Governor approved these proposals at Mozufferpore on the 5th August. The distribution of these loans and gratuities has commenced, and is progressing rapidly.

Effect of the floods.

6. The change wrought in the general aspect of the situation by the floods may be fairly gauged by the fact that prices remain for the most part stationary with a tendency to rise in all the markets other than Durbhunga, where the prospect is more hopeful than elsewhere. Apart from the floods, the outlook would be altogether a cheerful one. But the native dealers are not slow to recognise that the damage to the bhadoi crop, which bore so fair a promise, has again jeopardised the welfare of the people until the winter crop can be secured. It is well known that in the long run floods often do more good than harm to a tract of country, but the rule only applies when the people are able to sustain themselves during the period of the floods. In Behar, at present the floods have come suddenly upon parts of the country where the people have already been reduced to great straits by the loss of crops, and are not in a position to bear the present misfortune in addition to their previous sufferings: they require the immediate relief rather than the compensating advantage in the future. At this time of year, the difficulty of getting anything like a fair amount of work in return for the relief wage is practically insuperable: work on tank excavating is necessarily impossible, and the earthwork on roads is liable to be washed away. The difficulty of supervision is also greatly increased by the breaches in communications. Moreover, the most distressed people whom it is specially important to relieve are likely to cease attending the works and to prefer remaining in their homes. In this season, therefore, it is found that advances under the Agriculturists' Loans Act and gratuitous relief afford the best means of keeping the people alive. Considerable sums have already been sanctioned for these objects in the Mozufferpore and Chumparun districts as recorded above, and additional sums will be granted should the necessity unfortunately arise. The organisation for supervising and distributing charitable relief is sufficient for the present, but the local authorities have permission to strengthen it as required from time to time.

7. Allusions have been made from time to time to the relief operations conducted on the estates of the Maharaja of Durbhunga in the affected tracts. Some account of these was obtained by the Lieutenant-Governor on his recent tour. It appears that relief works were opened in the Parihar, Jalai, Alapur, Naridigur, and Rohilla circles, and Rs. 62,424 were expended up to the 25th July; Rs. 81,157 were advanced for the purchase of seed-grain, and Rs. 5,083 were given in charitable relief. During the last half of July an average of 800 persons a day, chiefly women and children, were in receipt of gratuitous relief at Parihar alone. Sir Steuart Bayley desires to take this opportunity of again tendering his thanks to Maharaja Sir Luchmeswar Singh for his loyal co-operation with the efforts of Government to save life and mitigate human suffering. He wishes also to acknowledge the assistance rendered by many other zemindars and non-official gentlemen, which has prominently come to his notice on tour.

The Maharaja of Durbhunga's co-operation.

SCARCITY IN ANGUL.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—FAMINE.

Calcutta, the 16th August 1889.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

A Note by Sir John Edgar, K.C.I.E., Chief Secretary to the Government of Bengal, on deputation, dated 30th July, 1889, submitting reports with enclosures from the Officiating Superintendent of the Tributary Mehals, Orissa, on the subject of the condition and distress of the people of the Government Estate of Angul, with proposals and preliminary estimates for relief operations.

The deficiency of last season's crops in many of the Tributary States of Orissa, and specially in Angul, was, at an early period of the year, the cause of some anxiety to Government, and the necessity of special vigilance in Angul, which is under the direct administration of the Commissioner of Orissa, was urged on that officer in March last. The reports received in June led the Lieutenant-Governor to order supplies of grain to be sent into Angul and to direct a complete organization for relief works and gratuitous relief to be established, and at the same time His Honour directed a superior officer to be deputed by the Commissioner to carry out these orders, and to report on the real state of affairs. For this purpose the Commissioner deputed his Personal Assistant Baboo Kalipodo Mookerjee to Angul, and the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to take this opportunity of acknowledging the good work done by that officer. The Commissioner had previously deputed the Assistant Superintendent of the Tributary Mehals, Baboo Nund Kishore Dass, to visit the Khondmals and other native States. The reports received were such as to convince the Lieutenant-Governor that in some of these States, as well as in Angul, there was very severe distress, and that the arrangements for meeting it were not in all cases adequate; and as his engagements in Behar did not admit of his immediately visiting Orissa in person, he determined to depute Sir John Edgar to enquire into the state of affairs in Orissa generally, but specially in the Tributary Mehals and Angul, to organize with the assistance of the Commissioner such measures as might seem necessary for the purpose of relief, and to report on the causes, temporary or permanent, which had brought about or intensified the present state of distress, with suggestions for the better guarding against similar dangers in the future.

Sir John Edgar has now returned, and his general report is under preparation, but the Note above referred to, together with the reports of the Commissioner and of his Personal Assistant, enables the Lieutenant-Governor to deal with the present aspect of the question and to pass orders on the proposed organization for immediate relief in Angul, which is the only tract under our direct administration in which exceptional measures appear necessary.

2. The area of Angul is 881 square miles, of which 471 are cultivated. The high lands form about three-fourths of the entire cultivable area, and are cultivated with paddy and rubbi: the remaining low lands are almost entirely under paddy. The State of Angul was confiscated by the British Government in 1847 owing to the Rajah's continued disobedience of orders, and his attempt to wage war. Since that time it has been under Government management, the revenues being collected and the estate generally managed by a tehsildar in direct communication with the Superintendent of the Tributary Mehals. It has never formed a portion of any Regulation district, and the map shows that it is isolated from British territory. On the north it is bounded by States in the Central Provinces; on the east by Talchere and Hindole; on the south by Nursinghpore, Daspalla, and the Mahanuddy river; and on the west by Athmullick. The road from Sumbulpore to Cuttack traverses the estate, but is only fit for fair-weather traffic, as it crosses 25 unbridged streams and is not metalled. It took Sir John Edgar four days to reach Angul from Cuttack (though only about 80 miles distant by the road which is at times impassable) by means of a steam-launch up the Mahanuddy as far as Tikerpara,—no steamer had ever ascended so high before,—and special arrangements by land. It is important that the inaccessibility of this locality should be recognized, and the deficiency of the administrative system hitherto obtaining here appreciated. The population at the time of the last census amounted to 101,903, and is composed almost exclusively of the agricultural and labouring classes.

3. The whole estate is said to have suffered from a partial failure of crops for some years, especially the last two, though some tracts are more distressed than others. The average outturn of the principal food-grains is estimated to have been, in 1887-88, beali rice, 2 annas; saradh, 6 annas: in 1888-89, beali rice 6 annas; saradh 6 annas. It is possible that the ryots have intentionally allowed some of the lands to lie uncultivated in view of the fact that the estate is under settlement. Not only were the rice crops thus short, but also the mohua, mango, and palm crops of last season totally failed. The high prices of grain in the estate and in the adjacent States have contributed to the distress caused by the loss of crops. It is estimated that 10 per cent. of the whole population will be unable without assistance to subsist until the next crop is harvested.

4. The above statements are made on the authority of the tehsildar and the Superintendent's Assistant, who made enquiries over a comparatively small area and generalized therefrom; but it has become very clear in the course of Sir John Edgar's recent deputation that the information which, previous to the deputation of the Personal Assistant, had been furnished to the Superintendent was not of a very trustworthy character, and that for the future the first thing is to secure information from a subordinate agency on which reliance can be placed. Provision has been made accordingly for this purpose in the arrangements initiated by Sir John Edgar. But, after allowing for the inaccuracy of the reports received for some time past from inexperienced subordinates, it is impossible to resist the conclusion that an appreciable proportion of the population (whether 10 per cent., more or less, cannot be declared with any certainty) are in a position of severe distress, if not of destitution, and that relief operations on an adequate scale are required for some months.

5. Some relief has been given since May under the orders of the Superintendent, but it was only sanctioned to the amount of Rs. 1,000 out of the Improvement Fund for ordinary works, and no special expenditure was sanctioned by him until the middle of June. The smallness of the sums spent on relief works, advances, and gratuitous relief up to the 15th July shows that the local authorities were not previously alive to the gravity of the situation in Angul. Tuccavi advances, to the amount of Rs. 12,000, had been sanctioned by Government, but only about Rs. 3,000 were issued, although the mahajuns, who usually lend grain to the cultivators at this time of year, have this season refused to give them loans, so that there was the greater necessity for the supply by Government agency of present means of subsistence. Previously to Sir John Edgar's visit, nine relief centres had been established with relief works near them, but these gave employment only to 493 persons, and 1,998 persons were in receipt of gratuitous relief, and both the amount of wage on the works and the ration given on gratuitous relief were unquestionably inadequate. A large number of deaths from cholera is reported, and some deaths are said to have occurred from starvation. Hitherto there has been no want of grain in the State, and the stocks were estimated in July as amounting to 50,000 or 60,000 maunds. But the information on these points cannot be relied upon, and there is always the danger that the supplies of food-grains from the neighbouring States may be discontinued owing to the presence of cholera, which has been undoubtedly very severe and still prevails. The state of the growing crops is so far favourable, but more rain is wanted, and observations show that in this part of the country the rainfall is specially liable to be partial and unevenly distributed.

6. The circumstances above described sufficiently show that from various causes there was great danger of some serious calamity occurring in an inaccessible tract like the Government estate of Angul. The measures necessary to ensure the safety of the people and avert the possibility of their perishing through incompleteness of investigation or want of administrative agency have now been carefully considered by Sir John Edgar and the Superintendent of the Tributary Mehals, and are contained in the papers laid before Government. The estate is to be divided into three circles for relief purposes. Mr. Brownfield, who was for many years in the Survey Department and carried out the survey of Khoorda, and has experience of settlement work, has been placed in charge of the relief proceedings in Angul, and will also have charge of the Angul Circle. He is to control and generally supervise the work of the other two circles, which will be in charge of his Assistants, Messrs. Augier and Lloyd, and sufficient establishments will be allowed to these three officers. Twelve relief centres have been selected, and more may be added as required: the sites should be near some good water-supply and shelter should be provided near each centre for persons employed on light work and for medical relief. A mohurrir and a peon will be employed at each centre.

7. In addition to the above proposals, the following suggestions have been laid before Government by Mr. Hopkins in his letter of the 30th July after communication with Sir John Edgar, and are approved by the Lieutenant-Governor:—

"The duties of the circle officers will be to superintend the distribution of gratuitous relief to those who cannot work, and see that those who are sick receive medical aid; and for this purpose a hospital assistant or other medical officer will be placed at their orders at each of the head-quarters of a circle. They will have to see that shelter is provided for the sick. Some of the persons receiving gratuitous relief may be employed on light work, such as basket-making, mat-making, &c., cotton twisting and husking paddy. This will be performed under shelter. The circle officers should arrange for and erect, if necessary, sufficiently spacious open sheds.

"The distribution of tuccavi loans will form an important duty. The procedure which I would suggest is this: as soon as each officer has joined his circle, he should proceed to visit each village in it and ascertain from the headmen and villagers what persons actually require advances and distribute to each applicant to whom it is determined to grant a loan as much as the circumstances of each case requires, entering the grantee's name in a register and the necessary particulars as laid down in the rules of the Board of Revenue, and taking the signature of the grantee against the amount and the signature of the headman. The signature of the headman will not be taken as security for payment, but as a means of identification. It may often happen that the headman will report against granting a loan. In such cases the circle officer will be careful to enquire why this adverse opinion is given. In cases where it is founded on the poverty of the applicant, a careful enquiry should be made first whether the land held by the applicant will justify the advance, and, secondly, whether any one will go security for him. I would note that these loans are granted to assist the people in their poverty, and if they are refused assistance on that ground, the very object of making advances will be frustrated. Each officer when going his rounds should supply himself with sufficient funds to meet the advances which he will be called on to make. In most cases the produce of the land held by the applicant should be sufficient security for a loan. Anyhow there can be no risk in advancing money to resident and settled ryots.

"There is another class of advances which may be usefully adopted, viz., advances on account of spinning and weaving. The former will afford employment to a large number of helpless women who are now receiving gratuitous relief, or who require such relief, but are averse to attending to ask for relief, and the second will enable weavers to work up the yarn. It will probably be necessary to buy the cloth which is manufactured: this may be done. The cloth can be sold. Again women and children may be employed in the manufacture of baskets, fans, trays, and other useful things of basket work; the baskets, &c., can be purchased.

"I note it will probably be necessary to distribute some clothes to indigent women and girls; this cloth will be distributed from the stock which has accumulated, or may be purchased from local páns or weavers.

"In the matter of work, it is difficult to lay down any rules. Road works and embankments can hardly be undertaken at this season of the year, but the following work for men might be undertaken:—

(1) Levelling fields for cultivation.
(2) Jungle-clearing.
(3) Drains.
(4) Minor roads and paths.
(5) Weaving.

"It is probable that repairs may be desirable to bundhs and dams; in some cases it may be desirable to erect new works of this description. The relief officers have full discretion to enter on any work of this description for the improvement of agriculture where they see it can be effected during the present season. I also annex a schedule of roads and bundhs which will afford work, and though above I have expressed an adverse opinion to carrying out such works in the rainy season, yet I must leave the matter very much to the local knowledge acquired by the relief officers. If they find large numbers of people require work, they should consider carefully the list of works given in Appendix A. In villages and in Angul for women and children the following work will be sufficient—

Basket-making. | Cotton-twisting.
Paddy-husking.

The latter would be profitable and useful employment, for paddy is cheap: rice is dear. The paupers should, whenever possible, be employed to husk the paddy for distribution. They should also be employed in keeping the grounds and huts at each centre perfectly clean and also in cleaning and cutting undergrowth in villages and on roads. They can also be employed in collecting firewood, cooking, and carrying water."

8. For advances, relief works, and medical relief, the Superintendent has submitted applications as follows, and they were sanctioned on the 6th August by the Lieutenant-Governor;—

"Baboo Kalipodo Mookerjee has estimated the sum necessary for loans at Rs. 12,000 at least. Of this sum, Rs. 5,000 has been already sanctioned and Rs. 7,000 has been advanced. For this formal sanction will be required. If more is required, application for it will be made.

"Relief works have been estimated at Rs. 8,951. Appendix C gives a general estimate of this sum. One anna per diem has been fixed as the sum payable in order that work may not be diverted from the fields, but it may be necessary to increase the amount of daily wages. Of this sum, Rs. 3,800 has been provided in the budget of Angul, of which about Rs. 1,000 is already appropriated for establishment and contingencies. A grant of Rs. 3,000 has already been made for works. A further sum of Rs. 4,000 will be required.

"On the subject of medical relief I have nothing to say except that another hospital assistant is required and four compounders. The cost of these for three months, when it is hoped relief proceedings will cease, is Rs. 295. Other expenses connected with medical relief will be met from the sum sanctioned for gratuitous relief."

9. The want of trustworthy information has been alluded to above, and with a view to obtain it for the future, Sir John Edgar selected Mr. Brownfield as the chief relief officer, his experience as a Surveyor qualifying him in a special manner for the work of collecting information of the kind required. It will be the duty of this officer and his two assistants to visit every village in the estate, and to enquire carefully and record in their diaries information on the following points amongst others:—

"(1) The character of the harvests during the past two or three years.
(2) The number of villagers who have emigrated.
(3) The number who have died of cholera.
(4) The number, if any, who have died of want.
(5) Any loss amongst plough cattle.
(6) The area cultivated with biali rice, mowa, and other similar early rain crops.
(7) The probable period under which the agriculturists will be able to subsist on these crops.
(8) The extent to which the landless classes share in, or are benefited by, these crops.
(9) The area of the saradh cultivation for this year, and its proportion to the amount cultivated in ordinary years.
(10) A full explanation of the cause of any deficiency in the area so cultivated.
(11) The prospects of the saradh crop at the time of visit.
(12) The number of people in the village needing relief.

(13) The length of time for which they will probably require such help.
(14) The amount of stocks of grains of all kinds held in the village so far as can be ascertained.
(15) Any other matter affecting the condition of the people which Mr. Brownfield may find worthy of report.

"In addition to the first report on the saradh cultivation prescribed in clause 11, the relief officers will be bound to report from time to time any changes which may take place in the prospects of that crop. All the information sent in by the assistant relief officers will have to be tested most carefully by Mr. Brownfield and embodied by him in the diaries which he will submit from time to time to the Superintendent. Copies of these diaries will be sent to Government for information."

The Lieutenant-Governor entirely concurs with Sir John Edgar and confirms these arrangements.

10. The future supply of rice for relief operations in Angul has also to be provided for in case of a failure in the present source of supply. The estimate of the stocks at present in the country may be correct, but there is no certainty on the subject; and having regard to what has happened on previous occasions in Orissa, it would be dangerous to rely solely on the alleged existence of these stocks. The influx from the neighbouring States might at any time be interrupted by an increase in the epidemic of cholera now prevailing in Angul, or by the exhaustion of the source in the supplying States. Sir John Edgar therefore writes:—

"I have therefore strongly advised the Superintendent to despatch from Cuttack, either by steamer up the river or by road, a supply of at least 5,000 maunds of rice or its equivalent in paddy, in addition to the amount already despatched. I recommend paddy, because the husking of it will give employment to distressed women in Angul, while affording a certain amount of profit to Government as a set-off against the initial expense. The cost of the rice delivered at Angul has been hitherto Rs. 3 a maund inclusive of carriage. I have therefore sanctioned an advance of Rs. 15,000 for the purpose. If more is required, it will be sanctioned hereafter."

The advance has been sanctioned by the Lieutenant-Governor.

Altogether the sums hitherto sanctioned for relief purposes are—

	Rs.
For works	7,000
„ loans	12,000
„ gratuitous relief	16,957
„ medical relief, miscellaneous, and rice	4,895
Total ...	40,852

and the sum above mentioned of Rs. 15,000 has been advanced in addition for the purchase of paddy. But these sums are provisional only, and further requirements will be met as they arise.

11. The Lieutenant-Governor desires to acknowledge the services rendered by Sir John Edgar on his deputation, and the thoroughness of the proposed measures of relief which he has recommended.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Superintendent of the Tributary Mehals for information and guidance.

Ordered also that a copy of this Resolution, and of Sir John Edgar's Note and of its enclosures, be submitted for the information of the Government of India.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—FAMINE.

Calcutta, the 16th August 1889.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

Notes recorded by Sir John Edgar, K.C.I.E., Chief Secretary to the Government of Bengal, on deputation, on the condition of the Duspalla State and of certain others of the Tributary Mehals in Orissa, with enclosures.

In the Resolution of the 20th June 1889, in the Political Department, on the condition of the people in the Tributary Mehals, Orissa, it was stated that it is the duty of Government to press upon the Chiefs the necessity of taking measures for the relief of distress and of giving them such assistance in doing so as may be required. With regard to the state of Duspalla, on the Mahanuddy, it was said: "In Duspalla, the population of which is 41,608, the Raja reported that the general condition of the people was bad; that there was severe loss of crops during the last two years; that the stock of rice in this State has already been consumed; and that traders were bringing rice from Cuttack. He proposed relief works at an aggregate cost of Rs. 4,000, in aid of which he obtained a loan of Rs. 2,000 from the Government on the 30th May. The Superintendent did not consider these works sufficient, and advised the Rajah to open others. No report of the result has been received."

2. Sir John Edgar has now furnished the Lieutenant-Governor with full information collected on his late tour by enquiries made in the Tributary Mehals which he visited. It will be desirable to summarise this. Late in June the Assistant Superintendent, Tributary Mehals, paid a visit to the Duspalla State, and recorded certain facts which had come to his notice. There was more or less failure of crops (chiefly of the rice crop) in almost all parts of the State. The pergunnahs which suffered most are Jormuha, on the northern bank of the river Mahanuddy, and Panchpali and Kula on its southern bank. In Jormuha the last rice crop is said to have entirely failed, and distress was then, at the end of June, at its height; about three-fourths of the population stood in need of State help in one way or other. In Kula and Panchpali the yield did not exceed one-fourth of the average produce, so that there was distress there, but not so severe as in Jormuha: in other parts some sort of help for the labouring classes would, it was expected, be needed. They had indeed received some from works of public utility undertaken by private individuals. The Raja was excavating a tank at his head-quarters, which was estimated to cost Rs. 2,000, but little progress had been made. Non-resident professional diggers and the residents of the State were promiscuously employed, so that the latter did not get the full benefit, and unfortunately the works were far away from the places where help was most needed. With these exceptions, nothing was being done by the State or by private individuals to help the needy, beyond that the Raja borrowed Rs. 100 worth of paddy to lend to the people of a few villages. The financial position of the State was declared to be anything but satisfactory. There was no cash balance in the treasury, and no food-grain in the State granaries to spare. The Rs. 2,000 which the Raja had borrowed from Government were considered altogether insufficient to meet the requirements of the occasion; but, having regard to the financial condition of the State, the Raja was unwilling to run largely into debt. When the critical condition of the country was explained to him, he agreed to borrow Rs. 3,000 more for relief purposes, and submitted an application for that sum to Government. The supplies of grain from Cuttack had closed, but were expected to recommence in the rains from the Sumbulpore side. Cholera and small-pox have made great havoc during the year. Small-pox had disappeared in June, but cholera still raged in different parts of the State. It was the general opinion that, though the shortness of provisions might have something to do with these epidemics, want of water, which was very severely felt during the summer, was the immediate cause.

3. The Assistant Superintendent again visited the Duspalla State in July, and recorded what had been done, as follows :—

"From my last report, it will have been seen that until my visit to the State very little in the shape of State relief had been given. Since then Rs. 313 had up to the date of my second visit been advanced to 299 ryots in Joremo, i.e., the portion of Duspulla which lies on the north of the Mahanuddy, and where the distress is very severe, and the Dewan had obtained 489 delengas, 1,283 maunds of paddy, from mahajans and given to 535 ryots, and was also giving gratuitous relief in Joremo from 1st instant to destitute persons, whose number had by the 15th idem reached 192. The embankment work in Joremo had also commenced, in which about 130 were employed daily. Having done this, the Dewan had come to Kula zillah, which is on the south of the Mahanuddy, and had commenced making advances. The Dewan informed me that the Rajah had intimated to him that he would soon open an annochhatra at the head-quarters. The Raja has neither money nor stock of food-grain, and he does not see the gravity of the present situation. The Rs. 2,000 he borrowed from Government must nearly have been spent by this time, but the additional Rs. 3,000 for which he rather reluctantly applied, and which has recently been sanctioned, will soon be in his hands, and that will enable him to get on with relief measures for some time. It will not, however, be enough."

4. Sir John Edgar and the Superintendent on their return journey from Angool invited the Raja to meet them at a village in his State not far from the Mahanuddy. They were, however, met by the Dewan of the State, who informed them that the Raja had absented himself on the plea of illness. The Dewan also said that the Raja would not take proper measures for the relief of distress, and would not allow him to do so, and would not even send to Cuttack for the sum of Rs. 3,000 recently sanctioned as a loan. Sir John Edgar inspected some neighbouring villages, while the Superintendent took the Dewan's statement. This was to the effect that 18 more deaths from starvation had been reported from the Jormuha pergunnah in addition to the 58 already reported. There have been also 72 cases of starvation in the Kula pergunnah; from Panchpali, the other afflicted pergunnah, no statistics are available. The Dewan had found, on enquiry, the 58 deaths to be due to starvation and want. Only one-fourth of the usual area of winter rice has been sown: there are seedling beds, which, if the weather is favourable, will supply another eight annas of the usual area: for the remaining four annas, it is said, there are expectations of getting plants from Nursinghpore, but this is somewhat uncertain, for the latter is not well off. The Dewan stated that an annochhatra had been opened at Duspalla, at which one chittack of rice, or a handful of cooked rice, is given to each person attending. The Raja, he said, had only pretended to perform his promise: 100 persons only receive alms at the annochhatra. Sir John Edgar reports the state of things seen by him during his inspection to be deplorable. "The number of deaths," he writes, "which have been officially returned as caused by starvation, has been 148 in a population of little more than 10,000, and I was informed by at least two people, speaking independently, that the number which actually took place was much greater than that officially returned. We have heard from all sides of starving people in Duspalla taking refuge in other States. Complaints on this subject have also been made officially to the Superintendent by the Collector of Ganjam."

5. Under these circumstances, Sir John Edgar considered it useless to make any further attempts to induce the Raja to do his duty by his people, and requested the Superintendent to summon the Raja into Cuttack to explain his conduct. He also arranged for the deputation of the Assistant Superintendent to Duspalla to take immediate means for the effectual relief of the people in the affected tract which, so far as is known at present, is small in area, and contains a population of little more than 11,000, and to report fully on the condition of the State and on the administration of the Raja. The Assistant was unfortunately taken ill with fever and unable to proceed at once, but another trustworthy officer was deputed immediately in his place. The Superintendent has also been authorised to advance to his Assistant as much as he may want in anticipation of formal sanction.

The Lieutenant-Governor, in pursuance of the policy of impressing upon the Chiefs the necessity of taking measures to keep their people alive, approves of the action taken by Sir John Edgar in requesting the Superintendent to summon the Raja of Duspalla into Cuttack, and in sending the Assistant to take charge of the relief measures in the State and to spend the money which has already been advanced by Government. A further report by the Superintendent on the conduct of the Raja and the condition of his State is anxiously awaited by the Lieutenant-Governor.

6. Besides Duspalla, the States affected by scarcity are Khandpara, Boad, Nyagur, and Ranpur on the south of the Mahanuddy, Tigeriah, Baramba, Nursinghpore, Hindole and Athmullik on the north. In anticipation of Sir John Edgar's report, a few details of the present condition of these States may now be given. In Khandpara there is considerable distress among the aboriginal classes, greater than in any of the neighbouring States, while the prospects of the landed classes are fairly good; a loan of Rs. 5,000 was sent to the Chief in July. In Boad relief measures have been adopted, and money is being spent, but the situation of the State is described as critical. Both Boad and Khandpara are about to be inspected by trustworthy officers. The condition of the people has somewhat improved in Nyagur, but general distress still prevails. Relief measures, both gratuitous and on earthwork, commenced in June. In Ranpur cholera has greatly decreased, prospects are improving, and relief works are in progress. The Dewan has worked, and is working exceedingly well, and Sir John Edgar has formed a very high opinion of him. The situation in Tigeriah shows a real turn for the better, and there were no deaths from starvation during the fortnight reported upon by the Superintendent. The mortality from cholera has been appalling. In Baramba affairs are fairly satisfactory. There is no present need for apprehension with regard to Nursinghpore; there has been sufficient rain, and the labourers find enough work to do. The reports received by Sir John Edgar about Hindole are very gloomy, though the fortnightly statement gives no ground for special alarm. The Raja is on the alert, has started relief works, and has applied for a loan of Rs. 5,000, which the Superintendent was desired by Sir John Edgar to grant. This has the Lieutenant-Governor's approval. The Raja of Athmullik has made most praiseworthy efforts to meet the distress in his State: he spent nearly Rs. 5,000 in loans and relief last year, and has disbursed about Rs. 12,000 this year: he superintends the relief operations himself, and has not only managed to keep his own people out of extreme distress, but has received people from other States. The good work which he has done and his devotion to his people are highly appreciated by the Lieutenant-Governor, who has written to the Raja to this effect, and desires to bring his excellent example to the notice of the Government of India.

7. Sir John Edgar anticipates that the pressure in all these States will be probably much more severe during the next two months than it has been hitherto, and that the Superintendent should be prepared to give advances liberally, while taking care by incessant inspection, and, when necessary, by more direct action, to ensure that the money is properly spent. He has also found reason to distrust largely the reports received from the majority of the Gurjat Mehals, and has organised with the Superintendent a system of inspection of the affected States by European officers. These views are concurred in by the Lieutenant-Governor, who desires that the Superintendent will take action accordingly, and keep Government fully informed of the progress of affairs in these States.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Superintendent, Tributary Mehals, for information and guidance.

Ordered also that a copy of this Resolution, and of Sir John Edgar's note and enclosures, be submitted for the information of the Government of India.

Ordered also that this Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE RAJSHAHYE DIVISION FOR THE YEAR 1888-89.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—MISCELLANEOUS.

Calcutta, the 20th August 1889.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Annual Administration Report of the Rajshahye Division for the year 1888-89.

MR. E. E. LOWIS was Commissioner throughout the year, but the present report is submitted by Mr. N. S. Alexander, who labours somewhat under a disadvantage in having succeeded to the charge of the division after the close of the period under review. The divisional head-quarters have recently been removed from Rampore Beauleah to Julpigoree.

Tours.

2. From the memoranda left by Mr. Lowis, it would appear that his annual tour was a useful and varied one, but it is remarked that it was almost exclusively confined to the cold-weather months. As regards the tours of district and sub-divisional officers, it was indicated in the Resolution recorded on last year's report that it is sufficient under this head for the Commissioner to show that he has satisfied himself that the duty of personal inspection has been properly attended to. The Lieutenant-Governor observes that the suggestion thus made in favour of greater brevity has been profited by, but regrets to find that Mr. Alexander has apparently been unable to give without reserve the assurance desired. The deficiency in the periods spent by district officers in the interior is in one instance trifling, and in the other case met with a fair excuse; but in respect of the Sub-divisional Officers of Serajgunge and the Terai the failure to carry out the orders of Government calls for very serious notice, especially as the period of touring, which was formerly required to extend to 120 days, has, by this Government's Resolution of the 31st April, 1888, been recently reduced in the case of sub-divisions to one of 90 days only. The shorter time now prescribed must be fully completed.

Weather and crops and condition of the people.

3. The rainfall was not only considerably short of that of preceding years, but also ill-distributed. The outturn of the autumn and winter rice crops, the principal food staples of the division, fell almost everywhere below the average, and the season, from an agricultural point of view, was a poor one. Common rice was dearer in every district than in 1887-88; but, compared with the average of the five previous years, it was cheaper throughout the division, except in Julpigoree and the Darjeeling Terai. The wages of labour continued at a high range; there was, as hitherto, an absence of all emigration; and the material condition of the people generally is declared to have shown no appreciable alteration. In this connection the Officiating Commissioner remarks:—

"The major portion of the population consists of agriculturists pure and simple, who benefited by the high prices obtained for jute, grains, and other produce, though their gains had to be discounted somewhat by the greater cost of living caused by the high price of food-grains. The only part of the division where there was any sort of deterioration in the condition of the people appears to be in Dinagepore, of which the Collector writes:—'The failure of early and winter rice crops affected all classes. The zemindars found difficulty in collecting rents, and the ryots had less surplus produce to sell. The poorer classes certainly found themselves in straitened circumstances.'"

Turning to the public health, the Lieutenant-Governor observes that there appears on the whole to have been an improvement corresponding with the decrease in the number of deaths registered in every district except Darjeeling; but the divisional returns are somewhat disfigured by the two serious outbreaks of cholera reported to have occurred in Rajshahye, and the abnormal increase shown in the mortality from small-pox in Rungpore. During the earlier of the cholera epidemics in question, there were no fewer than 68 cases and 50 deaths in the district jail, and a regular panic at Rampore Beauleah, necessitating the closing of the college, is stated to have followed. In Rungpore opposition to vaccination is said to be now confined only to small sections of the community; but notwithstanding this, the Compulsory Vaccination Act has very wisely been introduced, and it is hoped that before it all resistance will disappear. It is encouraging to note that in five, out of the seven, districts there has been a satisfactory increase in the number of persons vaccinated.

Manufactures, trade and commerce.

4. Under the head of manufactures there is little of interest to notice, beyond the statement that in Bogra the silk industry has been almost driven out by competition, and the weavers have taken to agriculture. Indigo-planting continues to be a languishing industry, but the manufacture of jute and gunny bags flourishes throughout the division, and in the case of tea there has been an increase in the number of gardens and in the gross yield in both of the tea-growing districts, Darjeeling and Julpigoree. The value of the registered trade has fallen from Rs. 8,42,16,056 to Rs. 7,24,83,346, showing a decrease of Rs. 1,17,32,710, which is observable under the head of both exports and imports, and is attributed to the fact that the principal rice crop was below the average in most parts of the division during the year. The total internal traffic showed an advance from 311,548 tons in 1887-88 to 351,697 tons in the year under report.

Employment of Muhammadans.

5. It is with considerable regret that the Lieutenant Governor learns that there has been during the past year a marked falling off in the number of Muhammadans employed in the service of Government in all the districts of the Rajshahye Division with one exception. The decrease occurred apparently in the subordinate grades of the public service, that is, among constables, excise peons, survey establishments, and postal employés. The Commissioner's remark that the increase in Rungpore "would show that something has been done in this district to insure the appointment of Muhammadans" suggests the consciousness of an actual shortcoming in this respect elsewhere; and in view of the fact that the proportion of Muhammadans to the total divisional population is as 1 to 1·5, and that the number of educated members of this section of the community almost equals that of educated Hindoos in the division, this particular feature of the year's administration is most unsatisfactory, and to it the Officiating Commissioner's attention is earnestly drawn. The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that next year the matter will be dealt with with greater fulness and care, and that the report will not be disfigured by such shallow explanations as attribute a decrease of Muhammadan constables (in Pubna) to "the appointment of some up-country Hindoos," or a falling off in the number of Mussulman officers in Darjeeling "to dismissals, the vacancies having been filled up by Hindoos."

Police and crime.

6. There was an increase in both cognizable and non-cognizable crime during the year under report, but it was comparatively insignificant and calls for no further notice. The remarks made regarding the conduct of the police are not favourable, and in some cases decidedly the reverse. In the case of Bogra it is stated that the district officer, not having been in the district during any part of the year, cannot speak from any personal experience. This requires explanation, as in the third paragraph of the report Mr. Sharp is shown as having held charge of the district from the 10th January to the 31st March, 1889. It is very satisfactory to observe the distinct improvement recorded in the working of the Village Chowkidari Act, in the greater punctuality with which the watchmen are now paid, and in their better discipline and more regular performance of the duties allotted to them. The Lieutenant-Governor is also gratified to learn of the better outturn of work done by Benches of Honorary Magistrates; but, to judge from the extreme variations in the figures showing the extent to which this agency is utilised in different districts, it would seem that a further advance might well be made in this direction.

The land and land revenue.

7. The percentage of collections on the total revenue leviable was over 95 everywhere except in Julpigoree, where it was 91; in Darjeeling, as in previous years, it was found possible to collect the demand in full. As regards estates under direct management, however, there was on the whole a falling off; but again in Darjeeling, and also in Dinagepore, no balances were left outstanding at the close of the year. There was a decrease in the number of certificates filed, and the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to find this attributed to the greater care taken by Collectors in admitting applications for their issue. Adverting to the operation of the sale law, Mr. Alexander considers that care and moderation were exercised. The relations subsisting between landlords and tenants are thought on the whole to have been peaceful and satisfactory, although it is admitted that in some localities manifestations of ill-feeling were brought to notice. It is to be hoped that the settlement of the estates of the Rajah of Doobulhati will soon be concluded to the mutual advantage of the parties concerned.

Monetary.

8. There is evidence in the report of a steady advance in popularity by both savings banks and the money-order system. The falling off in commercial transactions doubtless accounts for the decrease in the receipt of currency notes from the public, but the Officiating Commissioner is apparently at fault in attributing the increase in the sale of stamps—particularly of hoondi stamps—"to the flourishing condition of trade generally." It is somewhat surprising that, in spite of the warning conveyed in last year's Resolution, the District Officers of Rajshahye, Pubna, and Julpigoree failed to carry out the orders of Government in connection with the inspection of treasuries. The explanation given in the case of Pubna may be accepted, but that offered for Julpigoree affords no excuse whatever, while the absence of any from the Collector of Rajshahye should not be allowed to remain unnoticed.

Education.

9. Although there was on the whole a decrease of 87 educational institutions in the division throughout the year, it was unattended by a falling off in the number of pupils, which, on the contrary, showed a slight increase. This seems to the Lieutenant-Governor to be a wholly satisfactory result, and it is to be regretted that precisely the reverse was the case with girls' schools, the number of institutions having increased by 5, while the attendance fell off by 40. In Pubna, the District Board is said to have discouraged mixed schools by withdrawing the allowances formerly given to the pundits of such schools. The establishment of a technical school at Rungpore is gratifying. The results generally of examinations are fairly good, but in the case of the lower primary they were most unsatisfactory, unless the Collector of Dinagepore's theory that the falling off is to be ascribed to a salutary improvement in the strictness of the examiners is correct.

Local Committees.

10. Speaking of the success or otherwise of Local Committees, the Officiating Commissioner possibly feels a difficulty in hazarding more than the guarded opinion that they appear to have worked fairly well on the whole; but it is observed that, with one exception, all his district officers seem to take a hopeful view of their capacity for usefulness, and to have reported in more or less favourable terms, especially with regard to municipalities.

11. The acknowledgments of the Lieutenant-Governor are due to Mr. Lowis for his administration of the division, and to Mr. Alexander for his report. The remarks of the former on the merits and disqualifications of officers will be communicated to the Appointment Department.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

C. E. BUCKLAND,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL GENERAL ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE BHAGULPORE DIVISION FOR THE YEAR 1888-89.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—MISCELLANEOUS.

Calcutta, the 20th August, 1889.

READ—

The Annual General Administration Report of the Bhagulpore Division for the year 1888-89.

The division was administered throughout the year by Mr. Beames, but the report is submitted by Mr. C. C. Stevens, who received charge after its close.

Tours.

2. The tours of the district and subdivisional officers were practically sufficient. In three instances only they fell short of the prescribed number of days, and the deficiency was satisfactorily explained. In Bhagulpore the Joint-Magistrate and Assistants spent some days in camp; but in other districts the orders of Government on this point appear to have been overlooked.

Weather and crops, and condition of the people.

3. The weather was not, on the whole, favourable to agriculture. The rain was abundant, but fell at inconvenient times, being deficient at sowing time, excessive during July and August, and stopping early. In the Bhagulpore and Sonthal Pergunnahs districts the bhadoi and winter rice crops gave in consequence so short an outturn that relief works had to be opened, and throughout the greater part of the division, the harvest was below the average. A general rise of prices of food naturally followed. The year, generally speaking, was healthier than that which immediately proceded. The registered mortality decreased everywhere, and the material condition of the people was unaffected, except in the distressed tracts of Banki and Soopole and parts of the Sonthal Pergunnahs. There was a severe epidemic of cholera in the Maldah district, but with this exception the division appears to have enjoyed comparative immunity from epidemic of any kind. Small-pox is steadily decreasing under the influence of vaccination, which seems to be rapidly finding favour with the people.

Emigration and Immigration.

4. Emigration, especially of Sonthals, to the labour districts of Assam, through the agency of garden sirdars, was more active, particularly in the cold weather, than in the previous year, and it is some satisfaction to learn that the new route up the eastern side of South Bhagulpore, recently fixed by Government for the passage of free emigrants, is being extensively used with advantage both to employers and to coolies. Recruiters' agents have again been giving trouble in spite of the prosecutions of the previous year. There were three cases of kidnapping women in Bhagulpore, in two of which convictions were obtained: the third was committed for trial at the sessions. The Sonthals are said to be forming colonies in the jungles of Maldah and the Terai.

Manufactures, trade and commerce.

5. Under this head there is nothing of special importance to notice except the decline of the silk industry, owing to the successful competition of European-made fabrics of a better quality, and a decrease in lac. The outturn of opium was considerably less than that of the previous year. Saltpetre and metal vessels afford scope for two profitable industries. The short harvests checked exports, and gave an impetus to imports, especially of food-grains. There was a marked increase in trade between Nepal and Purneah, except in timber, which declined considerably in consequence of the stringent measures stated to have been adopted by the Nepalese authorities to check the dishonesty of their forest officials. The Lieutenant-Governor desires that the value of the registered trade and of the internal traffic may be given in future annual reports.

Police and crime.

6. The results of the year under these heads were on the whole satisfactory. There was an increase in the number of offences against person and property, due to the unfavourable character of the season, and also to the better reporting of crime.

The percentage of convictions in sessions trials was lower, and the results of prosecutions for false complaints were not altogether satisfactory. The regular police in this division are showing signs of improvement, but they are still below the average in efficiency. The conduct of the rural police shows some improvement. The Commissioner would afford material assistance to Government if he would summarise the statistics and give his opinion on the police and crime of the division collectively.

Civil Justice.

7. Under this head there was an increase in rent suits, confined to Monghyr, Purneah, and Maldah, and a decrease in suits for money or moveables, &c. The increase in rent suits is generally attributed to the satisfactory working of the Tenancy Act, which is apparently much appreciated, and also to the bad season. The Subordinate Judge's court at Monghyr, which was only established as an experimental measure, worked satisfactorily. As the work was too heavy for one Judge, it became necessary to locate an additional Judge there for six months in the year to clear off arrears.

Revenue.

8. The revenue returns of the year under review do not compare favourably with those of 1887-88. The percentage of collections on the total land revenue demand was 96·5 against 97·12, and on the cess demand 83 6 against 85·8; while the excise revenue showed a decrease of Rs. 13,664, the advance fees paid up to the close of the year being less than in the year before, owing to the non-settlement of shops. The stamp revenue and receipts from income-tax show increases of Rs. 10,046 and Rs. 645 respectively.

Education.

9. The progress of education declined to some extent in this division during the year, as evidenced by the subjoined return, which compares the figures for the last two years:—

	1887-88.		1888-89.
	Schools.	Pupils.	Schools.	Pupils.
Secondary—
High English	13	2,601	13	2,880

Indigenous	1,281	8,047	1,412	10,575
Total ...	4,998	89,720	4,785	88,473

While the falling off in the number of primary schools and pupils, especially in the Sonthal Pergunnahs, which is not explained, is to be regretted, it is gratifying to observe that simultaneously there has been a substantial increase of 131 in the number of indigenous institutions, with 2,528 pupils, and that the number of Muhammadan pupils has increased from 19,660 to 19,762. These figures indicate a higher percentage of Muhammadans to total school population than the Muhammadans bear to the total inhabitants of the division. There has been an increase in the number of Muhammadans employed in Government service in the division during the year Of 139 gazetted appointments, 2,340 superior appointments and 3,179 inferior appointments, 18, 480, and 981 respectively were held by persons of this religion.

Committees.

10. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to notice the good work done by the District Boards, especially that of Bhagulpore, and by the Bhagulpore Municipality during the year, in regard to which, respectively, the Collector has made the following remarks :—

"The interest shown at meetings is encouraging, and the work done by the Education and Finance Committees most satisfactory. The Board showed a laudable readiness to provide in good time what funds they could afford for relief works. They have selected for these some very useful new lines of communication. They made a forcible representation to Government during the year to try and get a more liberal allotment of funds, and having received a final refusal, have set themselves in good earnest to make the most of the money available for education and dispensaries." * * * * *

* Including 372 boys.
† Ditto 216 do.

"The Commissioners have shown much interest in the development of the water-supply scheme, which now serves three of the most crowded wards of the town. They have made great progress in clearing the books of old unrealizable taxes, have revised the bye-laws, prepared a scheme for re-assessing the town, and also made improvements in the disposal of night-soil and control of the conservancy staff."

On the other hand the district officers of Purneah and Maldah make some severe observations on the backwardness of the important municipalities in those districts, in which ordinary sanitary requirements have been, and are, much neglected.

Conduct of zemindars.

11. The conduct of the zemindars in the division towards their ryots has, with a few exceptions, been all that could be desired. Much has been done by them in providing irrigation works. The Maharajah of Durbhunga is specially mentioned as having spent over Rs. 25,000 in irrigation channels and bunds, and given lands freely for the digging of tanks.

12. The Commissioner's remarks with regard to the conduct and qualifications of the several officers will be communicated to the Appointment Department.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

C. E. BUCKLAND,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

	Burdwan Divn.
1	Burdwan Aug. 17, '89	1·09	Weather—seasonable except near Cutwa. Near Cutwa both aus and amun have suffered severely for want of rain. Scarcity of drinking-water and fodder is beginning to be felt there. Prices of rice :—

			Raneegunge 14¼
			Jute is being cut with fairly good outturn.
2	Bankoora „ 17, '89	1·70	Weather—rainy. The rainfall of the week has been beneficial to the young rice plants, and has facilitated transplantation. More rain is wanted. Common rice selling at 17 seers per rupee at Sudder and 17½ seers at Bissenpore.
3	Birbhum „ 17, '89	0·93	Weather—hot and much too dry. The week has been unfavourable to the crops. Heavy rain is wanted throughout the district, and is urgently wanted in the Rampore Hât sub-division. Heavy rain falling at Sudder at the time of report. In Rampore Hât thana the want of rain has prevented the transplanting, even now, of some of the rice, and has injuriously affected some that has been transplanted. The Mowreswar and Nulhati thanas will have good crops if they have heavy rain at once. The thanas of the Sudder sub-division all want rain, but seem to be having it. The high land crops shew signs of beginning to wither. Price of rice rising at Rampore Hât—12 seers 14 chittacks per rupee; falling in Sooree—14 seers per rupee.
	Rampur Hât ...	0·55
4	Midnapur „ 17, '89	3·24	At head-quarters rain almost every day; at Contai the fall was also good and sufficient (5·46); at Tamluk and Ghatal very deficient—under an inch in each case. Sky still very overcast. Transplantation still going on. In the head-quarters and Contai sub-divisions 12 annas of the usual area have been planted out; in Tamluk 14 annas; in the Daspur thana of Ghatal only 8 annas, and in its other two thanas 10 annas. Indigo manufacture has turned out rather better than was expected. Prices of rice :—

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period for the last ten

The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed as percentage, saturated air being presented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The numbers are the numerical means or average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the sub-divisional station for the period in question during the past 24 stations in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least hundredth of an inch fell.

for the week ending Friday, the 16th of August 1889.
